Company E Members Among 400 Enrolling From 28th

June 28, 1941
Indianstown Gap, Pa.

Dear Friends,

Three Company E men have received honorable discharges from the 28th Division in order to enlist in the Army Air Corps. Those from the company who are among the 400 other 28th Division soldiers are PFC's Arthur Warman and Lester Kessel and Private Robert Stitt.

PFC Warman is the son of Arthur W. Warman, East Middle street. He enlisted in the National Guard in August, 1940, and obtained a first class rating in February, 1941. He is a graduate of Gettysburg High School in the class of 1937, and following graduation was employed by Ulrich Motors corporation and the Reaser Furniture Factory. "Artie" was sent immediately to Spokane, Washington, where he will enter a special mechanical training school.

PFC Kessel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kessel, Gettysburg R. 3. He is a graduate of Arundelville vocational school in the class of 1938. He pursued the agricultural course while there and was a member of the only class that included Alaska in its yearly FFA tour. "Les" will leave camp Monday and will go directly to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama. He probably will be a mechanic.

Private Stitt is the son of Mrs. Suzanne E. Stitt, New Oxford R. 2. He also graduated from the Arundelville vocational school, in the class of 1940, and like PFC Kessel, he studied an agricultural course. "Bob" has seen quite a bit of the United States, having traveled on the FFA tour through the south, west and into Canada. "Bob" engaged in athletics while in high school. He also will be sent to Maxwell Field, Alabama. He expects to become a flying cadet.

Sincerely yours,
PFC Bernard A. Stock, Jr.

Crandall Loses Appeal In Superior Court

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—The state superior court filed a decision today upholding the conviction of George E. Crandall, York county osteopath, on charges of operating a private hospital and private nursing home without a state permit and with practicing medicine without a license.

Crandall appealed from the conviction in the York County court. He was arrested in March, 1940, in connection with the operation of a health school near York.

The decision written by Judge Chester H. Rhodes directed that Crandall appear for sentencing.

He was given a 60-day sentence in the lower court, but it was stayed pending appeal.

Half Of New York's Milk Supply Cut Off

Utica, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—The Dairy Farmers Union set machinery in motion today for a milk holiday as its 11 a. m. (EST) deadline passed without response from dealers to their demands for a uniform price of $3 per hundredweight (47 quarts).

In a move designed to cut the flow of four million quarts of milk daily into New York City by more than one half, the estimated 25,000 union members in New York, Vermont and Pennsylvania have been instructed to hold milk on their farms beginning tomorrow morning.

Picket lines will be thrown around more than 400 plants in the New York milk shed, the union said.

Prominent among the independent dairymen who, the union claims, has pledged support of the milk stoppage was Owen D. Young, Van Hornesville industrialist.

"The Beaver" Will Boss All Britain's Factories

London, June 30 (AP)—Stocky, energetic Lord Beaverbrook, who as Minister of Aircraft Production was credited with quadrupling the output of British planes at a time when they were vitally needed, was appointed Minister of Supply today with responsibility for one of the most important jobs in the British war machine.

"The Beaver" was given wide responsibility for the manufacture of war goods in all Britain's factories. Observers almost unanimously interpreted his appointment as an indication that Prime Minister Churchill intended to whip up production to take full advantage of Germany's preoccupation with Soviet Russia.

Gettysburg Welcomes 71st Coast Artillery

THE 71st Coast Artillery from Fort Story, Virginia, arrived on the Gettysburg battlefield Saturday afternoon for a five-day encampment. Some of the camp scenes are shown above.

At the top S. G. Sollenberger, left, assistant superintendent of the Gettysburg battlefield, greets Lieut. Col. E. W. Timberlake, commanding officer of the visiting regiment.

Next are three of the 71st's officers. They are, left to right: Maj. H. S. Dimmick, Philadelphia; Lieut. C. H. Schultz, Pittsburgh, and Lieut. L. B. DeVille, Ville Platte, Louisiana. To the right are shown some of the soldiers enjoying their first meal in eleven hours. They had not eaten since breaking camp at Bowling Green, Virginia, at 3 a. m. Saturday.

A 37 mm. gun is shown in position on the Gettysburg battlefield and is being manned by a gun crew. The anti-aircraft gun and its control box were located on the ground over which Pickett led his famous charge during the battle of Gettysburg in 1863. The clump of trees in the background is the "Highwater Mark" of the battle. This is one of several gun positions that were set up by the 71st for its maneuver on the battlefield. Lieut. C. R. Lentz, Lebanon, Virginia, was in charge of the above crew.

Pennsylvanians Greet Sons As Coast Artillery From Fort Story Carries Out Maneuvers Here

Here on a triple mission, the 71st Coast Artillery regiment (anti-aircraft) stationed at Fort Story, Virginia, but engaged in maneuvers on the Gettysburg battlefield from Saturday to Wednesday, played host to an estimated 2,000 visitors—relatives and friends of the soldiers—here on Sunday during a pause in the simulated defense of Gettysburg from enemy attack by air and tanks.

The 1,700 officers and men—approximately 75 per cent of whom are from Pennsylvania—arrived early Saturday afternoon and went into camp at the site of CCC Camp No. 1 along West Confederate avenue. Then 800,000.000 candlepower searchlights and anti-aircraft guns were set up at vantage points about town to track and "fire" on enemy aircraft that arrived to photograph camouflaged gun and camp positions and to circle the area after dark.

Purposes of Trip

The three chief purposes in the Gettysburg trip from Fort Story are to give the troops the training furnished by a maneuver in the field under mimic warfare conditions; to give the hundreds of relatives and friends of the artillerymen who live in the area a chance to see their sons in action.

LONGSTREET PARADE MOVES WEDNESDAY AT 1

Route Announced Today; Dedication Of Site To Follow

The official route of the parade on Wednesday afternoon preceding the dedication of the site for the $200,000 General James Longstreet equestrian memorial on the Gettysburg battlefield was outlined at a conference this morning in the offices of J. Walter Coleman, battlefield superintendent, in the post office building.

The procession will form on Springs avenue and intersecting streets with the head of the column at the intersection of Chambersburg street and Springs and Buford avenue. The column will move promptly at 1 o'clock, Standard Time.

The column will be preceded by the marshals and colors.

Then will follow Lieut. Col. E. W. Timberlake and his 71st Coast Artillery. This is an anti-aircraft unit of 1,700 officers and men and more than 350 motor vehicles.

Musical Organizations Included

Then will come the contingent from the Carlisle Medical barracks, comprising about 300 men; the United Spanish War Veterans with about 300 men; the American Legion, and the Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps.

The fife and drum corps of the coast artillery will accompany that outfit and the Carlisle band will accompany the Carlisle unit.

The Pennsylvania department band of the United Spanish War Veterans will accompany that unit.

The next section of the parade will consist of the Boy Scouts and the Boy Scout drum and bugle corps, followed by Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves. Guests, in automobiles, will comprise the remainder of the parade.

Germans report capture of Lwow, Poland, in drive toward Russian Ukraine.

France breaks off diplomatic relations with Russia.

Moscow says German naval landing party wiped out at Viipuri, 74 miles from Leningrad.

Slovak Army also reports successes against Russia, which acknowledges Germans have driven a third of way to Leningrad through Lithuania and almost a third of way to Moscow through Poland.

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, plunging across Sovietized "buffer" territory into the USSR itself, today reported the capture of Lwow, Poland, in a drive toward the rich Soviet Ukraine, while other Nazi columns skirted the White Russian capital of Minsk and reached the highway of Moscow, 450 miles northeast.

The Rome radio said German motorized forces had occupied Minsk, 20 miles inside Russia's 1939 frontier, but Berlin officials merely noted that German columns had swept around the city.

Minsk is the capital of a Soviet republic whose designation of "white" has no political significance. Rather it derives from the costume worn by the natives.

Driver, 19, And Bicyclist, 44, Die In Accidents In County

Ernest Edward Guise, Biglerville R. 1, And Charles Dick, Gettysburg R. 2, Are Victims Of Mishaps Saturday Evening On Emmitsburg And Biglerville Highways

Two traffic accidents near Gettysburg within a period of less than three hours Saturday evening took the lives of two Adams countians, one the operator of a machine involved in one of the crashes and the other a bicyclist. Three other persons were injured but not seriously in the two fatal mishaps while four other occupants of machines involved escaped unhurt.

State motor policemen from the Gettysburg substation are probing both crashes, while Dr. C. G. Crist, Gettysburg, Adams County coroner, is preparing to hold inquests into both of the fatalities on dates not yet set.

Thrown Against Abutment

An hour and a half after he was thrown from his bicycle when it was struck by the car of Marshall T. Walters, 25, 149 East Middle street, about two miles north of here on the Biglerville road, Charles Dick, 44, Gettysburg R. 2, died in the Warner Hospital from a crushed chest, a broken pelvis, a broken right arm, head injuries and shock. The accident occurred about 10:45 o'clock Saturday evening.

Private James A. Rose, who investigated, said that after hitting the bicycle the Walters car continued a swerving course to the left, striking the right side of the oncoming car of W. R. Hammers, 38, Gardners R. 2, ran off the left side of the highway where it struck two trees, veered around toward the highway and turned over on its side.

Did Not See Bicycle

Private Rose said that Walters told him he had not noticed the bicycle until he was about 10 feet from it. He faced the lights of the approaching Hammers car. Walters estimated his own speed at between 55 and 60 miles an hour, the officer reported. When he saw the bicycle, he attempted to avoid it by swerving to the left, Walters said.

Dick was riding toward Gettysburg on the right side of the highway and Walters was traveling in the same direction. Police said Dick's bicycle was equipped with a rear reflector but no lights. The impact of the collision threw Dick against the end of a bridge abutment which was broken by the force of the man's body. Both Dick and his bicycle came to rest in the gutter along the small bridge.

Treated At Hospital

Both Walters and his companion, Robert Sharrah, Arundelville, were injured and were brought to the Warner Hospital for treatment. Later they were discharged.

The driver had cuts on the right arm and hand and abrasions of the right thigh. Sharrah suffered multiple lacerations of the face, a cut on the left hand and abrasions of the knees. Walters was driving to his home here from Biglerville where he is employed at a service station. Hammers was riding alone in his car and was not hurt. The Hammers car was considerably damaged, while the Walters machine was nearly demolished.

Walters and Sharrah were brought to the hospital by P. H. Baugher, Biglerville R. 1, while Richard L. Swope, Gettysburg, brought Mr. Dick here.

Born In Gettysburg

The deceased was born in Gettysburg, a son of the late John F. and Maggie (Topper) Dick. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church and had been employed as a farmer by Eddie Toddes.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Walter Swope, Camden, New Jersey; Gervus, Lancaster; Mrs. Marie Gallagher, Philadelphia; Luther, Luthersville, Maryland; and Howard, Camden, New Jersey.

Funeral services will be held from the Bender Funeral Home on Carlisle street Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock with a mass at 9 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector, officiating. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Friends may call at the Bender Funeral Home Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock.

One U.S. Marine Lost From Torpedoed Ship

Washington, June 30 (AP)—A member of the United States Marine Corps has been reported missing at sea, an authoritative official said today, following the sinking of a ship which was carrying a small detachment of marines to England.

There were 10 marines in the detachment, with a major in command and the official said.

The marines were on a Dutch vessel, now in British service, which was torpedoed somewhere in the Atlantic, the official said.

Car Rolls Over After Crash

Ernest Edward Guise, 19, Biglerville R. 1, probably died instantly when he suffered a fracture of the skull and left leg and other injuries as his car rolled over on the Emmitsburg road after a collision with a car operated by John H. Plantz, 24, 114 East Middle street.

The fatal crash occurred in front of the residence of Herbert Bowers, four and a half miles south of here on the Emmitsburg road, just north of McCurdy's school house, at 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening. Another occupant of the Guise car was slightly hurt while two young women, who also were passengers, escaped injury.

Both Cars Traveling North

Corporal F. C. Russell, of the Gettysburg substation, is conducting the investigation. His probe showed that both cars were driving north when Plantz, who was in the lead, made a left turn into a driveway leading to the Bowers home. Plantz told Corporal Russell he gave a hand signal of his intention of turning. Surviving occupants of the Guise car said they did not see the signal.

Guise apparently attempted to pass the Plantz car and then cut across back of it as Plantz entered the driveway. The left rear sections of the two cars collided, causing the Guise car to roll over completely and come to rest on its wheels.

Victim Thrown From Auto

Guise was thrown against the windshield and probably received the skull fracture in that manner. As the car rolled over and then righted itself, he was thrown to the highway. Guise was dead when he reached Gettysburg and is believed to have been dead before he was taken from the accident scene.

Dorothy Huff, 17, Steinwehr avenue, who rode in the front seat with Guise, was not hurt and Nadine Goldman, 17, Gettysburg R. 3, an occupant of the rear seat, also was unhurt. John Wirt, 18, Guernsey, escaped with a scalp laceration which was treated at the Warner Hospital.

Plantz, who was riding alone, was uninjured, also.

Occupants of the Guise car told the investigating officer Guise was not speeding when the crash occurred.

Guise, who was single, was born in Butler Township, a son of Mrs. Laura Guise and the late Edward M. Guise. He attended Biglerville High School. Since last April he was employed by the Harrisburg Steel Corporation. Prior to that he worked for three months at Indianstown Gap. He was a member of the Biglerville Reformed Church.

Services Wednesday Morning

In addition to his mother he is survived by two brothers, Bernard R. York, and Eugene C. at home, and one sister, Miss Dorothy M. Guise, at home.

Brief funeral services will be held from the late home Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock with further services at the Biglerville Reformed Church conducted by the Rev. Ernest W. Brindle. Interment in Bender's Church cemetery.

Friends may call at the late home Tuesday evening.

C. Paul Cessna Named to Defense Contract Group

W. S. Shipley, of York, regional chairman for the Defense Contract Service, today announced the appointment of three new members of the Regional Advisory Committee. Each new member will cover his town and vicinity in furthering the work of the service to speed defense production.

The new members are: C. Paul Cessna, alumni secretary of Gettysburg College; Russell M. Shafer, president of the Revonah Spinning Mills, Hanover; and Frank E. Maslind, president of the C. H. Maslind and Son Company, Carlisle.

The regional offices of the Defense Contract Service are at 25 North Duke street, York. Richard S. Cole is regional secretary. Thomas S. Gates, president of the University of Pennsylvania, is district coordinator of the Defense Contract Service.

Brown also claimed that a lighter apple crop than was harvested a year ago is anticipated this year. Severe freezes in the middle west killed many trees in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, he asserted.

In New England and the Michigan area, light crops are in prospect, while in Washington state the crop is about the same as a year ago. That of Oregon is lighter.

Dear Friends,
Three Company E men have received honorable discharges from the 28th Division in order to enlist in the Army Air Corps. Those from the company who are among the 400 other 28th Division soldiers are PFC's Arthur Warman and Lester Kessel and Private Robert Stitt.

PFC Warman is the son of Arthur W. Warman, East Middle street. He enlisted in the National Guard in August, 1940, and obtained a first class rating in February, 1941. He is a graduate of Gettysburg High School in the class of 1937, and following graduation was employed by Urich Motors corporation and the Reaser Furniture Factory. "Artie" was sent immediately to Spokane, Washington, where he will enter a special mechanical training school.

PFC Kessel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kessel, Gettysburg R. 3. He is a graduate of Gettysburg vocational school in the class of 1938. He pursued the agricultural course while there and was a member of the only class that included Alaska in its yearly PFA tour. "Les" will leave camp Monday and will go directly to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Alabama. He probably will be a mechanic.

Private Stitt is the son of Mrs. Suzanne E. Stitt, New Oxford R. 2. He also graduated from the Ardentville vocational school, in the class of 1940, and like PFC Kessel, he studied an agricultural course. "Bob" has seen quite a bit of the United States, having traveled on the PFA tour through the south, west and into Canada. "Bob" engaged in athletics while in high school. Higher Apple Prices Due, Growers Told Winchester, Va., June 30—Apple growers may reasonably expect higher prices for their products the coming season—in keeping with the general commodity trends—according to L. Brown, of New York, directing head of the Produce Barometer Service, who addressed the annual meeting of the Appalachian Apple Service, Incorporated, which closed its one-day session Saturday night.

Brown also claimed that a lighter apple crop than was harvested a year ago is anticipated this year. Severe freezes in the middle west killed many trees in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, he asserted.

In New England and the Michigan area, light crops are in prospect, while in Washington state the crop is about the same as a year ago. That of Oregon is lighter.

Hoover Outlines Course For "Reasoning" People

Chicago, June 30 (AP)—Herbert Hoover's seven point program for America proposes, among other things, a prepared nation, remaining at peace and giving every aid to Britain and China without putting American troops in the war zones.

In a radio broadcast last night the former president asserted that a prepared America need not fear military disaster but that the nation's only defeat would be "if we lost our own national freedoms and our potency for good in the world."

Hoover described his program as a course for "reasoning people which avoids the most destructive forces and holds fast to the most constructive forces." That program, he added, was "neither defeatist, nor isolationist nor interventionist."

USE YOUR MINT

The time has come to give your fresh mint bed an extra workout. Chopped fresh mint puts new life in buttered carrots and peas or vegetable loaf. It brightens up fruit appetizers and salads, adds zest to beef, chicken, lamb or veal gravies and gives quite a gay touch to fresh fruit or frozen desserts.

Hoover Outlines Course For "Reasoning" People

Chicago, June 30 (AP)—Herbert Hoover's seven point program for America proposes, among other things, a prepared nation, remaining at peace and giving every aid to Britain and China without putting American troops in the war zones.

In a radio broadcast last night the former president asserted that a prepared America need not fear military disaster but that the nation's only defeat would be "if we lost our own national freedoms and our potency for good in the world."

Hoover described his program as a course for "reasoning people which avoids the most destructive forces and holds fast to the most constructive forces." That program, he added, was "neither defeatist, nor isolationist nor interventionist."

All first division teams in the Adams County Baseball League scored victories in games played Saturday afternoon.

Arendtsville continued its one-game lead at the top of the circuit by defeating Fairfield 5-3 on the Fairfield diamond. A three-run spurge in the last half of the sixth after Fairfield had led 2-1, gave the apple-pickers victory.

The runs came on an error by Deardoff and successive singles by W. Kane, Singler and Herman. Rohrbach hit a homerun for Fairfield in the top half of the fourth frame. The victory was the ninth straight for the league-leaders.

Gettysburg and Taneytown put on a weird game on the local field before the locals emerged victorious 11-9 for their sixth straight. Johnny Withrow pitched shutout ball until the eighth while his team-mates piled up a 7-0 advantage. However, in the eighth Withrow passed five batsmen which combined with a number of hits to give Taneytown nine runs to take the lead. Hertzog relieved Withrow and finished the game.

Manager Ridinger's outfit came right back in their half of the eighth to score four runs to snatch victory. Don Ulrich's double with the bases filled provided the winning runs.

Emmitsburg scored a pair of runs each the first and second innings and down Littlestown 5-2 on the Emmitsburg field. Kelly, Emmitsburg hurler, gave up but three hits and allowed his opponents their only runs in the third inning.

San Francisco Club Wins AAU Championship

Philadelphia, June 30.—Coach Charley Hunter of the San Francisco Olympic Club made two predictions before the National AAU Senior Track and Field Championships—and both panned-out perfectly.

The veteran mentor forecast another victory for his squad. It came through brilliantly with 125 points Sunday at Franklin Field to win the team title for the third straight year.

Hunter also singled out the 400-meter dash to provide the meet's sensation. It stole the show as 20-year-old Grover Klemmer, of the Olympic club raced to a new record in 46 seconds flat, barely beating a field that was almost perfectly matched.

Three new meet records also went by the books.

Fred Wolcott, of Rice Institute raced over the 110-meter hurdles in 13.7 to equal the world mark and clip two-tenths of a second off the Senior AAU mark he established in 1940.

Bill Stewart of the Southern California AA and Les Steers, of the Olympic Club leaped six feet 9 1/2 inches in the high jump to equal the listed world mark and beat the AAU record of six feet 8 1/2 inches which Steers set last year. Stewart was awarded first place over Steers for having fewer misses.

Bouncing Billy Brown, of Louisiana State contributed the third meet mark with 50 feet 11 1/2 inches in the hop, step and jump, which also stands for a new American Citizens' record.

Brown led the individual scorers with 24 points, first in the hop, step and jump, and the running broad jump and fourth in the 100-meter dash.

Cornelius Warmerdam, the Olympic Club star who pole-vaulted 15 feet 5 1/2 inches earlier this year, won first place in that event with a mark of 15 feet.

The Olympic Club's Hal Davis equalled his meet record of 20.4 seconds in defending his 200-meter dash by edging out Penn State College's Barney Ewell.

Ewell squared his personal duel with Davis by winning the 100-meter dash over the Olympic Club star in 10.3 seconds, equalling the meet record.

State Has 239,482 Remaining On Relief

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—With a reduction of 3,056 cases reported for the week ending June 21, the relief load in Pennsylvania continued its record-breaking decline, the department of Public Assistance reported today.

A total of 109,648 cases—239,482 persons—remained on the rolls and of this total, approximately 48,000 cases were classified as unemployment.

TEMPERANCE MEET

Bloomersburg, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Marked by the largest attendance in its history, the Pennsylvania Youth Temperance Council's 50th jubilee convention opened over the week-end with Mrs. Ella Boucher Black, Beaverdale, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, urging that its crusade emphasize "there is no such thing as moderation." There are 370 attending the meeting, which continues through July 6.

JOE HITS IN 42ND STRAIGHT GAME FOR NEW MARK

DiMaggio Breaks Sisler's Record As Yanks Win 2

By GAYLE TALBOT

Associated Press Sports Writer

From today on it is Joe DiMaggio who must sit and watch nervously as one slugging youngster after another comes up to challenge his modern big-league record for hitting in consecutive games.

The long watch ended Sunday for George Sisler, the once-peerless first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, as he saw his record of hitting in 41 straight contests shattered after 19 years by the New York Yankee star in an exhibition that thrilled 15,000 fans in the nation's capital.

Joining Joe slammed a double in the first contest against the Senators to tie Sisler's record and then came through with a wildly-applauded single in the seventh inning of the nightcap to stamp his name in the record book. Since May 15 DiMaggio has not been blanked, and in that period he has blazed away at a 377 clip to help drive the Yankees into leadership of the American League.

Lead Indians by 1 1/2 Games

The Yankees are in the midst of one of the greatest streaks of sustained hitting ever recorded. In Sunday's twin killings of the Senators 9 to 4 and 7 to 5, they ran the number of consecutive contests in which they had hit at least one home run to 25. Today they held a game and a half lead over the Cleveland Indians, who were throttled by veteran Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 3.

The Boston Red Sox lost ground to the Yankees as they divided a double bill with the Athletics. Manager Joe Cronin hit a home run with the bags filled to spark a 13 to 1 victory in the opener, but Jack Knott stopped them in the nightcap, 3 to 2, on seven hits.

Detroit broke a four-game losing streak when young Hal Newhouse set the St. Louis Browns down on four hits, 3 to 1.

The two National League battlers, St. Louis and Brooklyn, fought to a draw as each divided a double-header, the Cardinals retaining their one-game lead.

Bucky Walters Wins

Bucky Walters of Cincinnati out-pitched Lon Warneke and two other St. Louis fingers to win Sunday's first encounter 6 to 2, but the Cards came roaring back to slug out a 14 to 4 win over five assorted Red throwers in the second.

Brooklyn gained a split with the Boston Braves, winning 5 to 2 and then losing 6 to 2 in the nightcap, which was halted after seven innings by Boston's Sunday closing law.

Frankie Frisch's Pittsburgh Pirates thumped the Chicago Cubs twice, 8 to 2 and 3 to 2, thereby vaulting nimbly into fifth place in the National. John Lanning limited the Cubs to four hits in the first tilt for his second victory of the year.

Maurice van Robay's single drove Elbie Fletcher across with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second contest.

Veterans Of Foreign Wars Elect Officers

Scranton, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars, concluding their annual convention, elected John W. Rankin, Union, to a full term as commander and selected his home city for the 1942 meeting.

President of the Fayette county board of commissioners, Rankin succeeded Leo Moerschbacher of State College, who resigned in the middle of his term. He has held the office since Moerschbacher quit.

Elected to serve with Rankin were William H. Bechtel, Philadelphia, senior vice commander; William O'Donnell, Lebanon, junior vice commander; Wolfe Rosenberg, Harrisburg, judge advocate, and C. A. Gnau, Williamsport, quartermaster.

DOUBLEHEADER

Conshohocken, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Kathleen Landis, Danielville, and her fiancé, FBI Agent John Helmut, Palmerton, got a marriage license for themselves while planning to attend the wedding of her cousin. After the Rev. Edwin N. Carson had married Dorothy Landis and Harold K. Palmer, both of Conshohocken, Kathleen and Helmut disclosed their plans and Mr. Carson performed the second wedding of the day in the same family.

WASNT THERE

Barnesboro, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Eleven-year-old George Wildeman, left swimming in a Notely Park pool by several other companions, wasn't there when they returned so firemen started dragging the place for his body. Just as plans were made to drain the pool, word came that George had grown tired of swimming and hitch-hiked his way home.

Sports Roundup

New York, June 30—Going to be a tough job trying to fill Mr. Hughie Fullerton's shoes—for one reason, our dogs are too big—but here's trying:

The Brooks are so anxious to unload Blimp Phelps that they'll even consider selling him by the pound at current prices. * * Since turning pro just about a year ago, Patty Berg has traveled 50,000 miles and has conducted golf clinics at colleges in 28 states, the District of Columbia and Mexico. Between trains she has played hundreds of rounds of golf. * * The Broadway betting generally has made Fritz Zivic a 1-3 favorite over Bunny Davis tomorrow night, chiefly because it's been so long since Bunny put a good fight under his belt. * * Baseball tradition is being broken at Flint, Mich., where foul balls hit into the stands are returned by finders for use in summer leagues for youngsters. In contrast to the customary jeers, fans cheer each time a ball is hurled back. * * Bob Feller has spiked that widespread yarn that he once broke three of his pop's ribs during a warm-up session out at Van Meter, Iowa. * *

Today's guest star — Victor O. Jones, Boston Evening Globe: "Boston fans who last September were calling the Braves the 'team of tomorrow,' now are calling them 'the team of last September.'"

Sports in tabloid—That Hollis, L. L. barber who offered a free haircut to any customer who was in the chair listening to Red Barber when one of the Dodgers hit a homer, now is 39 haircuts in the hole. * * It's Bob Madry, Jr., for the son of the portly tub thumper of the U. of North Carolina and Mrs. Madry. * * (Both father and son are doing well). * * Slip Madigan is going to run one of his famous tours to the Joe Louis-Lou Nova fight—by way of Havana. * * Coach Charlie Backman of Michigan State is a stockholder in the Lansing club of the Michigan State league. * * Henry Cabo of Mobile, Ala., comes up with a fine idea. He wants the Yanks to print enough tickets to the Lou Gehrig memorial game so that fans all over the country can get them for souvenirs at a low price. The proceeds from the extra sales would be turned over to the United service organization. * * Gene Venzke, the miller, toured a Reading, Pa., golf course in 42 minutes, 49 seconds, scoring a 91. His fastest hole was played in 32 seconds. * * Fort Worth has a sensational golfer named Polly Riley. The fact that her initials P A R shouldn't hurt.

One-minute interview — Snorter Luster, Oklahoma coach: "During June, six Oklahoma U. football players eligible this fall, enlisted. * * Seventeen more of our best boys are registered. * * The only players we are certain of are the one who are married and have children."

Fills the bill—Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Times welcomed Lou Novikoff into the American Association as follows: "What we've always needed in this league is a left-handed Russian who hits home runs and sings baritone."

Ouch—And who was the wag who wagged that if the Army really has made a new man out of Bunny Davis, what a camouflage corps we must have!

Steel Workers Will Not Take A Holiday

Pittsburgh, June 30 (AP)—Because of the defense emergency, Pittsburgh steel workers will work on Independence Day—for the first time on record.

They will be paid time and one-half, as the SWOC contract with large steel companies designates the Fourth as a holiday.

At least two thousand southwestern Pennsylvania soft coal miners also will keep working July 3 to July 8 while the industry takes its annual five-day vacation. The object is to keep up the supply of coke for defense needs. The miners remaining at work will receive the $20 vacation pay and get five days off later in the year, operators said.

First European to visit South America was Columbus, in 1493, on his third visit to the New World.

ICKES LIKELY CZAR OF COAL AS WELL AS OIL

OPM 'Washes Hands' Of Control Of Priorities

Washington, June 30 (AP)—Possibilities of a "coal czar" being named to combat impending shortages was discussed Saturday on the heels of word President Roosevelt favored putting coal priority problems in the hands of the bituminous coal division.

Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., director of the priorities division of the office of Production Management, disclosed the President's opinion. The OPM figuratively has washed its hands of allotments of priorities on the nation's basic fuel.

Stettinius, asked before a House Committee whether his division would control coal, replied:

"I raised with the President at a meeting of the Commission (Advisory Commission to Council of National Defense) the question as to whether coal was to fall within our jurisdiction, and the President asked that all coal matters be left in the hands of the Bituminous Coal Division, and we never assumed in the raw materials department responsibility over coal."

"In OPM, the successor to the commission coal matters are not handled."

The opinion was received with astonishment by usually well informed officials of the coal division and the Department of Interior of which the price regulating agency is a part.

Neither Secretary Ickes nor Director Howard A. Gray—either of whom could become coal coordinator and retail all coal matters in the coal division—would comment immediately.

Taking their cue from appointment of Ickes as an "oil czar" when petroleum shortages became imminent, coal men indicated they would not be surprised if a similar control of their industry was ordered.

All first division teams in the Adams County Baseball League scored victories in games played Saturday afternoon.

Arendtsville continued its one-game lead at the top of the circuit by defeating Fairfield 5-3 on the Fairfield diamond. A three-run spurge in the last half of the sixth after Fairfield had led 2-1, gave the apple-pickers victory.

The runs came on an error by Deardoff and successive singles by W. Kane, Singler and Herman. Rohrbaugh hit a homerun for Fairfield in the top half of the fourth frame. The victory was the ninth straight for the league-leaders.

Gettysburg and Taneytown put on a weird game on the local field before the locals emerged victorious 11-9 for their sixth straight. Johnny Witherow pitched shutout ball until the eighth while his team-mates piled up a 7-0 advantage. However, in the eighth Witherow passed five batsmen which combined with a number of hits to give Taneytown nine runs to take the lead. Hertzog relieved Witherow and finished the game.

Manager Ridinger's outfit came right back in their half of the eighth to score four runs to snatch victory. Don Ulrich's double with the bases filled provided the winning runs. Emmitsburg scored a pair of runs each the first and second innings down Littletown 5-2 on the Emmitsburg field. Kelly, Emmitsburg hurler, gave up but three hits and allowed his opponents their only runs in the third inning.

San Francisco Club Wins AAU Championship

Philadelphia, June 30.—Coach Charley Hunter of the San Francisco Olympic Club made two predictions before the National AAU Senior Track and Field Championships—and both panned out perfectly.

The veteran mentor forecast another victory for his squad. It came through brilliantly with 125 points Sunday at Franklin Field to win the team title for the third straight year.

Hunter also singled out the 400-meter dash to provide the meet's sensation. It stole the show as 20-year-old Grover Klemmer, of the Olympic club raced to a new record in 46 seconds flat, barely beating a field that was almost perfectly matched.

Three new meet records also went by the books.

Fred Wolcott, of Rice Institute raced over the 110-meter hurdles in 13.7 to equal the world mark and clip two-tenths of a second off the Senior AAU mark he established in 1940. Bill Stewart of the Southern California AA and Les Steers, of the Olympic Club leaped six feet 9½ inches in the high jump to equal the listed world mark and beat the AAU record of six feet 8½ inches which Steers set last year. Stewart was awarded first place over Steers for having fewer misses.

Bouncing Billy Brown, of Louisiana State contributed the third meet mark with 50 feet 11½ inches in the hop, step and jump, which also stands for a new American Citizens' record.

Brown led the individual scorers with 24 points, first in the hop, step and jump, and the running broad jump and fourth in the 100-meter dash.

Cornelius Warmerdam, the Olympic Club star who pole-vaulted 15 feet 5½ inches earlier this year, won first place in that event with a mark of 15 feet.

The Olympic Club's Hal Davis equalled his meet record of 20.4 seconds in defending his 200-meter dash by edging out Penn State College's Barney Ewell.

Ewell squared his personal duel with Davis by winning the 100-meter dash over the Olympic Club star in 10.3 seconds, equalling the meet record.

Remaining On Relief

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—With a reduction of 3,056 cases reported for the week ending June 21, the relief load in Pennsylvania continued its record-breaking decline, the department of Public Assistance reported today.

A total of 109,648 cases—239,482 persons—remained on the rolls and of this total, approximately 48,000 cases were classified as unemployed.

TEMPERANCE MEET

Bloomersburg, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Marked by the largest attendance in its history, the Pennsylvania Youth Temperance Council's 50th jubilee convention opened over the week-end with Mrs. Ella Boucher Black, Beaverdale, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, urging that its crusade emphasize "there is no such thing as moderation." There are 370 attending the meeting, which continues through July 6.

JOE HITS IN 42ND STRAIGHT GAME FOR NEW MARK

DiMaggio Breaks Sisler's Record As Yanks Win 2

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

From today on it is Joe DiMaggio who must sit and watch nervously as one slugging youngster after another comes up to challenge his modern big-league record for hitting in consecutive games.

The long watch ended Sunday for George Sisler, the once-peerless first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, as he saw his record of hitting in 41 straight contests shattered after 19 years by the New York Yankee star in an exhibition that thrilled 15,000 fans in the nation's capital.

Joining Joe slammed a double in the first contest against the Senators to tie Sisler's record and then came through with a wildly-applauded single in the seventh inning of the nightcap to stamp his name in the record book. Since May 15 DiMaggio has not been blanked, and in that period he has blazed away at a 377 clip to help drive the Yankees into leadership of the American League.

Lead Indians by 1½ Games

The Yankees are in the midst of one of the greatest streaks of sustained hitting ever recorded. In Sunday's twin killings of the Senators 9 to 4 and 7 to 5, they ran the number of consecutive contests in which they had hit at least one home run to 25. Today they held a game and a half lead over the Cleveland Indians, who were throttled by veteran Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 3.

The Boston Red Sox lost ground to the Yankees as they divided a double bill with the Athletics. Manager Joe Cronin hit a home run with the bags filled to spark a 13 to 1 victory in the opener, but Jack Knott stopped them in the nightcap, 3 to 2, on seven hits.

Detroit broke a four-game losing streak when young Hal Newhouse set the St. Louis Browns down on four hits, 3 to 1.

The two National League battlers, St. Louis and Brooklyn, fought to draw as each divided a double-header, the Cardinals retaining their one-game lead.

Bucky Walters Wins

Bucky Walters of Cincinnati out-pitched Lon Warneke and two other St. Louis flingers to win Sunday's first encounter 6 to 2, but the Cards came roaring back to slug out a 14 to 4 win over five assorted Red throwers in the second.

Brooklyn gained a split with the Boston Braves, winning 5 to 2 and then losing 6 to 2 in the nightcap, which was halted after seven innings by Boston's Sunday closing law.

Frankie Frisch's Pittsburgh Pirates thumped the Chicago Cubs twice, 8 to 2 and 3 to 2, thereby vaulting nimbly into fifth place in the National. John Lanning limited the Cubs to four hits in the first tilt for his second victory of the year. Maurice van Robay's single drove Elbie Fletcher across with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second contest.

The Giants tightened their hold on the third rung by biffing the unfortunate Phillies, 10 to 7. A scheduled second game was rained out.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams

THE USE OF TOOLS

ONE reason why my Summer vacation looms before me as a thing of joy, is that I then take out my collection of tools—planes, hammers, chisels, etc., and transport them to my island carpenter table. There I will fool away with them in a manner that no business desk could rival.

Up there in my small hemlock covered lodge is the desk that I made, and upon which these talks will be written for several weeks, and in many a place will be driven a new nail, and a new addition will be made. A new kind of chair, a boat repaired, or a roof mended. For a brief period I shall be an amateur carpenter de luxe!

Perhaps there still may live a carpenter who was a parishoner of my father's church, who only knew me as the minister's son, who persisted in getting in his way at his carpenter shop when he wanted to get something finished! At any rate the happy memory of those days is freshened for me when I get those tools together and set myself to work.

I believe that every boy should be encouraged in the use of tools. They stimulate creative effort and give great pleasure to anyone who is so inclined.

I have never lost my great love for carpenters. They are builders. To see one work is a delight. Especially a good one. The carpenters of my youth sincerely loved their work. Nothing pleased them more than the building of a house or some substantial article of use. The so-called "finisher" has always fascinated me, for he takes so much pains in doing his work carefully and accurately.

Then there is the beauty of different kinds of wood and the fragrance that is made so pungent as the plane smooths their surface. Each specimen once a living lovely tree in the forest. If life were just a little longer I think that I would extend my collecting habit to woods. A chap once almost had me sold on the idea.

But tools of every sort thrill me. A machine shop is glorious! A man came to fix an unruly furnace that belongs to me not long ago and I watched him open his big bag of scores of tools. I smiled as I saw him pick this one and that one out and use it. He handled each as though it were an old friend!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Rare Personality."

Out of the Past
(From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times)

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Death of Maj. Gen. Macomb: We learn from Washington that Major General Alexander Macomb, Commanding General of the Army, died on Saturday last, at 2 o'clock P. M., suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy.

Married: On Tuesday evening, the 8th inst., by the Rev. Israel Forrest, Mr. G. Frederick Byers, to Miss Sarah Yeatts—both of this borough.

On the 10th inst., at Waynesboro, by the Rev. Mr. Bomberger, Mr. David Kandelhart to Miss Eliza Ann Bowen, daughter of Mr. James Bowen—both of Gettysburg.

Cold Spring.—The Subscribers respectfully inform the Public, that this delightful summer residence will be open for the reception and accommodation of visitors to commence on the first of July next. All exertion will be made to render comfort and satisfaction.

Parties and others can be accommodated with dinners, etc., at the shortest notice.

All accommodations will be extended by the Subscribers.

John & Martin Sweeney.

Nauvoo.—Extract of a letter from the vicinity of Nauvoo (Ill.)

"The excitement on both sides of the river against the Mormons is increasing very fast. The conduct of Jo Smith and the other leaders, is such as no community of white men can tolerate. It is the entire absence of all moral and religious principles, that renders them so obnoxious to the Gentiles of all denominations, wherever they reside.

Jo Smith was yesterday arrested between Nauvoo and Quincy, by the authorities of Illinois, on a requisition from the Governor of Missouri. May justice be meted out to him for his villainy."

Died: On the 25th inst., of measles, at New Windsor, Md., Margaretta, aged about 5 years, also at the residence of her father, on the 19th inst., of disease of the brain, Harriet, aged about 7 months—both daughters of J. S. Crawford, Esq., of Cumberland township.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Crops: The seasonable weather during the present month has been very beneficial to all crops. Oats never promised better, and corn is growing well. The wheat has improved astonishingly, and if nothing untoward occurs, will produce a larger crop than last year.

Pic-Nic: The Gettysburg Band, under Prof. Gundrum, are making arrangements for a Basket Pic-Nic, at Spangler's Spring, on the Fourth of July. A pleasant time may be expected, and a general invitation to the public is extended.

The new five cent coin has made its appearance. It looks pretty whilst new, but its weight and size will prevent it from becoming popular.

There is no doubt but that the admission of Tennessee will be a fact accomplished perhaps by the Fourth of July.—The feeling in favor of it on the Republican side of the House is almost unanimous.

San Francisco is going to be supplied with water from a lake on the Sierra Nevada mountains by an aqueduct two hundred miles long.

Married: On the 11th inst., by Phineas Rogers, Esq., Mr. David K. Baker to Miss Sarah Ann Ridenour, both of Freedom township, Adams county.

On Saturday morning last, by the Rev. Dr. Hay, Rev. T. O. Pritchard, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, to Miss Lydia Jane, daughter of Mr. John A. Swope, of this place.

On the 21st inst., at the Ger. Ref. Parsonage, New Oxford, by the Rev. W. F. P. Davis, Mr. Samuel A. Gardner, of York Springs, Adams county, to Miss Sarah Ann Buser, near Jefferson, York county.

On the 14th inst., by J. Hanes, Esq., Mr. Geo. Liles to Miss Martha Dolle, all of this county.

On the 19th of June, at the Lutheran Parsonage, by the Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, Mr. Jonathan Sherman to Miss Naomi Flenner, both of Freedom township.

On the same day, by the same at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. John Arendt, to Miss Sallie A. Miller, both of Cumberland township.

On the 26th of June, by the same at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. John Y. McFall, of Ches- ter, Delaware county, to Miss Mary E. Johns, near this place.

On the 3d of June, at the Ev. Luth. Parsonage, Littlestown, Pa., by Rev. S. Henry, Mr. John J. Shaffer, to Miss Emma J. Hatfield.

On the 10th of June, at the same place, by the same, Mr. Wm. Copenhaver to Miss Ann Eliza Sterner.

On the 21st of June, at the same place, by the same, Mr. Washington Jones to Miss Rebecca Grammer.

At McConnellsburg, Pa., on the 7th of June, by Rev. J. H. Mathers, Mr. Samuel E. Wampler, recently of Gettysburg, to Miss Maria M. Shoemaker, of McConnellsburg.

On the 17th of June, by Rev. Samuel Yingling, Mr. Charles Sillmyer, to Miss Magdalene P. Keller, both of Adams county.

On the 21st ult., by the Rev. Jacob Seehler, Mr. Pius Reckrode, to Miss Susan King, both of Adams county.

Evergreen Cemetery: Annual Election.—The annual election for a President and Seven Managers of Evergreen Cemetery, was held in the Arbitration Room of the Court-house on Monday evening, June 25th. The following gentlemen were elected:

President—J. L. Schick.
Managers—John Rupp, Samuel Herbst, G. Little, Andrew Polley, Alexander Cobean, Geo. Spangler, Josiah Benner.

The new board are understood to be opposed to the burying of the rebel dead in the Cemetery—that being the issue. There was considerable interest manifested on the occasion.

TEETH ARE IN

"Hey, with a chuckle, and Hey, with a shout!

Here's a new triumph worth boasting about!

Blow on the trumpet and bang on the drum!

Swift as the mornings the gladness come.

Flourish the saber and rattle its sheath—

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

Eyes all a-twinkle and cheeks all aglow:

Mouth all a-smile showing two in a row!

Come, all you neighbors and tradesmen and friends,

Look at them now ere their novelty ends!

Two in the upper and two just beneath:

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

Here is a truly remarkable girl.

Ere her smile with the purest of pearl,

Shaking her rattle and gurgling aloud.

Prouder than ever Queen Sheba was proud.

Crown her with laurel leaves tied in a wreath.

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

The Words They Used

Thomas J. JAMES BLOCKS ADJOURNMENT WITH LITTLE WPA

Sunday Night Conference Brings Agreement On Plans

[By the Associated Press]

Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—A new obstacle to speedy adjournment of the Legislature, now entering its seventh month, has developed due to refusal of Democratic Assembly leaders to agree to Governor James' proposal to establish a "little WPA" for those on relief.

The new impasse was reached at a conference last night in the executive mansion at which the Governor and the Republican and Democratic legislative leaders had practically agreed on a solution to the budgetary deadlock which to date had been the main stumbling block to adjournment.

Takes Stand for "Little WPA"

"We asked the Governor if our agreement was contingent on the little WPA, and he said it was," said Senator Harry Shapiro, the Democratic floor leader in the Senate, after the conference.

"Then I told him: 'Then the agreement is all off and that's how it stands,'" Shapiro explained.

James departed for Boston to attend the National Conference of Governors. He will be gone until Thursday. No date for a continuance of the meetings with the Legislature's key men was set.

However, before leaving, the Governor said:

"My office is open at all times. If my ideas are not accepted, I'm willing to listen to any modifications but there ought to be some suitable substitute proposed. We've made considerable progress (on budget items); let's move on to these other problems."

Democrats Disagree With Governor

The Democrats have been in disagreement principally with the Governor's $542,000,000 budget for the current two-year fiscal period which began June 1.

They forced James to take over, at least temporarily, 12 county mental hospitals which he said would cost $11,000,000. The tentative agreement all but completed at last night's meeting would have given the Governor his point on the hospitals—providing only for taking over the two Allegheny county institutions at Mayview and Woodville at present.

Legislation to postpone the transfer of the other 10 until December 31, 1942, or at the latest, February 1, 1943, was to have been passed by the Democrats before adjournment. The Democrats also were to have given up their plan to cut a mill from the personal property and bank shares taxes under terms of the agreement under consideration.

"I'm still hopeful that we won't have to start again from scratch," James said. "Those other matters have been largely settled; I don't think we'll have to go into them again."

Will Not Adjourn July 15

Achtman said the results of the conference last night prompted him to "apologize for saying we would adjourn by July 15," a date he had been suggesting all session.

The Governor explained that under his WPA plan, the state would contribute 25 per cent of the cost of a local project if the community used relief labor. He emphasized projects would not be started "simply to employ people" but as necessary local improvements "that the community would do anyway, such as putting in sewer systems."

"The federal government is abolishing the WPA in Pennsylvania, why should the state revive it?" Shapiro asked.

'Round About Town

Boy Scouts of the York-Adams area are included in an invitation issued by the Baltimore Area Council of the BSA to a mammoth Scout outing at Carlin's Park in Baltimore on Wednesday. Scout executives at Washington, D. C., Hagerstown, Wilmington, Delaware, and the York-Adams area have received invitations to bring scouts from those sections. The park and all its facilities have been reserved especially for Scouts, their parents and guests on Wednesday. Troop equipment prizes are being offered for troops coming the greatest distance, the best drum and bugle corps, the largest number of scouts in uniform and 25 individual prizes.

With daily returns dwindling short of the half-way mark in the Adams county drive for $1,500 in the national campaign for the United Service Organizations engaged in raising funds for recreational programs for men in the service of the United States, the county total today stands at $687 50. Of that total $428.50 came from Gettysburg individuals and organizations.

New legislation which was signed by Governor James only on Thursday changes the filing fee for jury commissioners' nominating petitions at the Court House from $2 to $10, the Adams County Commissioners have been advised.

Floranna Hoke Fowler, 19 West High street, filed her petition at the Court House as a candidate for the Republican nomination for assessor in the Third Ward.

Maurice C. Wareheim, Littlestown, a Democrat, his filed for assessor in the Second Ward of Littlestown.

Motorist travel through Gettysburg on Sunday was extremely heavy many of the motorists making the trip here to visit the camp of the 71st Coast Artillery on West Confederate avenue.

C. L. Nett, superintendent of the National Cemetery, reported that there were 155 guide trips made Sunday with a total of 579 passengers. On the corresponding date last year there were 171 guide trips and 615 passengers.

The annual food sale and bazaar of the Gettysburg Fire Company closed on Saturday evening with receipts for the evening of $560 which boosted the four-day total to $1,690 exceeding the sum raised in the 1940 event. A parade by the uniformed firemen with local fire fighting apparatus and the Blue and Gray band marked the closing evening. Complete results of the food sale will be announced at a future meeting of the company.

Hospital Report

Mrs. Sally Bender, Tipton apartments, East Middle street, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner Hospital with fractures of her left ankle and arm. She was injured in a fall early Sunday morning while visiting relatives at New Oxford.

John F. Taughinbaugh, Gettysburg R. D., submitted to an operation for the removal of his appendix.

Other admissions over the weekend were Mrs. Thomas J. Winebrenner, Baltimore street; Daniel Lockman, Ortanna R. D.; Mrs. Lester Frazer, Hanover street; C. Richard Miller, Abbottstown, and Mrs. Amalange Sease, West High street. Those discharged were Mrs. Keith Sanders and infant daughter, Donna Rae, North Stratton street; Mrs. Harry Lerew and infant son, Lynn Eddy, Bendersville; Mrs. Clarence K. Nett and infant son, Clarence Kenneth, Baltimore street; Mrs. Clair Gochenour, Dillsburg R. D.; Muri Shaffer, Gettysburg, and Nevlin Ohler, Taneytown.

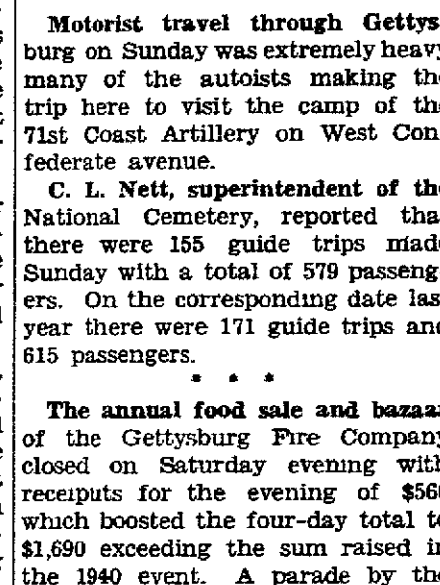

C. Fred Stevens, Gettysburg R. D., was treated this morning for an infection of his left hand.

EARLY CALL FOR TOMORROW'S REGISTRANTS

Big Percentage Of 750,000 Will Go To Colors

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 30—The Army probably will call up about 50,000 selective service trainees a month during the last half of this year, and a big percentage of them will come from the ranks of the 750,000 men of 21 who must register tomorrow.

Selective service headquarters, it was learned today, has worked out a system of interspersing the newest registrants in the list of those who enrolled last October.

The effect will be to make many of tomorrow's young registrants quickly available for military service—a welcome result to the Army high command which regards men just turned 21 as ideal soldiering material.

Additional Year Unlikely

Meanwhile selectees already in training received a good official indication that their tour of service would not be extended beyond the year fixed by law.

The temporary White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., released an executive order by President Roosevelt yesterday, which fixed 900,000 as the number of trainees to be inducted into the land forces in the fiscal year which starts tomorrow. The number is the statutory maximum.

New Trainees to Replace Old

William D. Hassett, the President's secretary, said that the Army would call on the selective service manpower pool for new trainees as those now in service finished their year's duty.

Asked whether this was "absolute evidence" that men now serving would be released when they finish their year, Hassett replied with an unqualified "yes." Afterward he added he was not a military lawyer.

In Washington officials estimated the number of trainees to be inducted in the last six months of 1941 on the basis of two considerations. The first was that only 650,000 men of the 900,000 allowed were now in service. The second was the high command's plans for expanding the size of the Army beyond the 1,500,000 goal previously fixed.

Congress has been asked for 152,000 additional men for the air corps and related services and General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, said last week that at least another 100,000 men would be needed, chiefly because so many have been dispatched to hemisphere bases.

Defense Labor Difficulties

[By the Associated Press]

CIO striking machinists were the last to go back to work at the San Francisco Bay shipyards and dry-docks where the half-billion dollars' worth of defense production has been delayed for weeks. Last week AFL machinists had decided to end their walkout. All will now work on a coastwide master contract covering all shipyards.

AFL-UAW struck at the wire division of the Electric Auto Light Plant at Port Huron, Michigan, which has orders from the Navy for electrical supplies.

CIO-UAW at the White Motor Company, Cleveland, decided Sunday to take a strike vote Wednesday. The company is making trucks and "halftracs" (similar to scout cars) for the Army.

AFL-Grain Processors' Union and the W. K. Kellogg company, at Battle Creek, signed a new contract which ended a one week walkout.

CIO-UAW voted to return to work today at the parts plant of the Chrysler Corporation, Marysville, Michigan, and to continue negotiations over disciplinary grievances.

CIO-UMW, subject to ratification by the rank and file, agree to end a strike which began last Thursday at the Dow Chemical Company in Michigan, which makes three-fourths of the magnesium used in the airplane industry.

The joint executive committee of CIO-TWU ratified an agreement to avert a strike in New York Subways and to resume negotiations.

Their 28-day strike ended, 1700 Pittsburgh truck drivers and helpers today tackled the job of "putting back into circulation" huge piles of industrial materials and department store merchandise which accumulated at railroad sidings, warehouses and wharves during the shutdown.

Butchers and packers, affiliated with the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers, went on strike today at the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company and posted pickets on a Pittsburgh bridge leading to the company's plant on Herrs Island. The strike affected about 700 men and women employees of the company, a subsidiary of Armour and Company.

The World Today

German forces who later yielded it to Russia when Poland was partitioned.

While the Germans claimed a rapid-fire series of successes, it was apparent that with the exception of the Minsk area, Russia's Red armies still were fighting west of the 1939 Soviet frontiers.

In addition, a Moscow communique declared that German attempts to knife across the Karelian Isthmus from Finland, now fighting at the side of Germany, and to land troops by sea at Viipuri were repulsed.

Viipuri is on the Gulf of Finland, only 74 miles by railroad from Leningrad, Russia's second largest city.

The Soviet war bulletin also asserted that the Red Army still was holding against violent attacks ranging from Murnansk, on the Barents Sea, to the vicinity of Minsk and on south through the Luck-Lwow gateway to the great wheatfields of the Ukraine.

In this region, between Luck and Lwow, a flaming battle of 4,000 German and Soviet tanks raged into its fifth day with the Nazi juggernaut seeking to break through to the Ukraine capital of Kiev, 250 miles eastward.

The Berlin radio announced the occupation of Luck, 100 miles northwest of Lwow, but this could not be confirmed. The radio, in a news broadcast in Spanish, further claimed that Nazi troops had occupied Minsk. A German spokesman, however, said there was no confirmation.

The spokesman said Minsk, 20 miles inside the old Russian frontier, was seriously menaced by German armored divisions and that Nazi motorized units had seized control of the head of the Minsk-Moscow motor highway.

West of Minsk, in the Bialystok sector of old Poland, the Germans declared two Soviet armies were trapped. Military sources in Vichy heard the two armies numbered 400,000 men, but they gave them a chance to break through.

By contrast, Russian military dispatches asserted that advance German Panzer forces in the Minsk area had been trapped by Soviet counter-attacks.

The Russians conceded that German columns had penetrated into Lithuania a third of the way to Leningrad and across Poland almost a third of the way to Moscow.

On the Viipuri front, the Russians said, 300 Nazis were killed in a single assault and the entire German landing party put ashore near Viipuri was wiped out.

France broke off diplomatic relations with Russia this morning with the official explanation that "Soviet diplomatic and consular agents in France were carrying out activities against the public order and security of the state."

It was the first time France had reached an open break against any of Germany's enemies.

As the second week of fighting on the eastern front began amid a barrage of special German high command announcements detailing Nazi successes thus far, Finland and Slovakia pitched in actively against Russia at various points along the far-flung front.

Cannon blazed all along the 600-mile Russian-Finnish frontier as the Finns, heeding an appeal from Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim to follow him in "holy war" against the Russians, cast off their policy of passive resistance.

The Slovak high command declared that the forces of the tiny state, which is all Adolf Hitler left of Czechoslovakia, had driven deep into Soviet territory to seize prisoners and material.

The home of General Henri Dents, Vichy commander in the Levant, was reported attacked by British bombers and five members of his guard were killed and four wounded. The general was not at home.

British Middle East headquarters reported that British troops had completed the encirclement of Palmyra, French stronghold in the heart of the Syrian desert.

In the Damascus and coastal sectors, the British tallied "further advances."

The French said British attacks had been beaten off with heavy losses all along the Syrian front.

In Ankara, Turkish sources predicted that Turkey's reply to French appeals for cooperation in the defense of Syria would sidestep any possibility of involvement in the war.

In the western air war, RAF bombers renewed the attack on Germany after bad weather Saturday night had interrupted their series of 17 straight night assaults in a row. The London air ministry reported that RAF bombers started "very large fires" and inflicted "great damage" at the ports of Hamburg and Bremen, and that the raiders also pounded Bremerhaven, Emden, and Den Helder in the Netherlands. Eleven RAF planes were acknowledged lost.

TWO BILLION $ BILLS MUST PASS 'FORE MIDNIGHT

Agriculture, Relief Part Of Delaying Arguments

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, June 30—A dispute over $35,000,000 tied up a pair of billion-dollar appropriation bills today, but congressional leaders expressed confidence both measures would go to President Roosevelt before the fiscal year ends at midnight.

The bills involved were the $935,905,000 relief bill and the $1,340,000 agriculture appropriation.

The argument revolved about whether Congress should add $35,000,000 to the relief bill for the disposal of surplus commodities, or whether the sum should be included in the farm bill.

Senator Adams (D-Colo.) chairman, said he would call the relief bill conference committee into session sometime today. He expressed hope that some agreement could be reached.

Must Pass Both Before Midnight

Senator Byrnes (D - S. C.), acting majority leader, said he was confident of final approval for both measures before midnight. As a precautionary step, however, he prepared resolutions permitting the Agriculture Department and the Relief Administration to continue spending at their present rate until such time as the bills pass.

Congress also had still to vote funds for its own operation and to act on a $1,055,000,000 appropriation to meet deficiencies in various departments and agencies. The $24,567,000 legislative appropriation was pending before the senate, where passage was regarded merely as a matter of routine.

To Devalue the Dollar

Much of the fiscal year-end work was finished during a busy weekend. This included legislation continuing the President's emergency powers to devalue the dollar further and to maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and a record breaking $10,394,821,624 appropriation for the Army.

Still awaiting house consideration are senate amendments to a bill increasing from $1,250,000,000 to $2,650,000,000 the lending power of the commodity credit corporation, mainly to make crop loans at 85 per cent of parity (the 1909-13 average) as Congress has ordered it to do.

Today at Harrisburg

The senate convenes at 3:30 p. m. (EST); the house at 8 p. m.

James' proposal to establish a "little WPA" for local communities to employ relief labor with a 25 per cent state subsidy opposed by Democratic legislative leaders—creating a new impasse in political struggle which has delayed adjournment.

Relief rolls continue downward, but Assistance department cautions to expect 25,000 WPA lay-offs to be felt shortly on rolls.

Today's Talk

THE USE OF TOOLS

ONE reason why my Summer vacation looms before me as a thing of joy, is that I then take out my collection of tools—planes, hammers, chisels, etc., and transport them to my island carpenter table.
There I will fool away with them in a manner that no business desk could rival.

Up there in my small hemlock covered lodge is the desk that I made, and upon which these talks will be written for several weeks, and in many a place will be driven a new nail, and a new addition will be made. A new kind of chair, a boat repaired, or a roof mended.
For a brief period I shall be an amateur carpenter de luxe!

Perhaps there still may live a carpenter who was a parishoner of my father's church, who only knew me as the minister's son, who persisted in getting in his way at his carpenter shop when he wanted to get something finished! At any rate the happy memory of those days is freshened for me when I get those tools together and set myself to work.

I believe that every boy should be encouraged in the use of tools. They stimulate creative effort and give great pleasure to anyone who is so inclined.

I have never lost my great love for carpenters. They are builders.
To see one work is a delight. Especially a good one. The carpenters of my youth sincerely loved their work. Nothing pleased them more than the building of a house or some substantial article of use. The so-called "finisher" has always fascinated me, for he takes so much pains in doing his work carefully and accurately.

Then there is the beauty of different kinds of wood and the fragrance that is made so pungent as the plane smooths their surface.
Each specimen once a living lovely tree in the forest. If life were just a little longer I think that I would extend my collecting habit to woods. A chap once almost had me sold on the idea.

But tools of every sort thrill me.
A machine shop is glorious! A man came to fix an unruly furnace that belongs to me not long ago and I watched him open his big bag of scores of tools. I smiled as I saw him pick this one and that one out and use it. He handled each as though it were an old friend!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Rare Personality."

Out of the Past
(From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times)

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Death of Maj. Gen. Macomb: We learn from Washington that Major General Alexander Macomb, Commanding General of the Army, died on Saturday last, at 2 o'clock P. M., suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy.

Married: On Tuesday evening
the 8th inst., by the Rev. Israel Forrest, Mr. G. Frederick Byers, to Miss Sarah Yeatts—both of this borough.

On the 10th inst., at Waynesboro,
by the Rev. Mr. Bomberger, Mr.
David Kandlehart to Miss Eliza
Ann Bowen, daughter of Mr. James Bowen—both of Gettysburg.

Cold Spring.—The Subscribers respectfully inform the Public, that this delightful summer residence will be open for the reception and accommodation of visitors to commence on the first of July next.
All exertion will be made to render comfort and satisfaction.

Parties and others can be accommodated with dinners, etc., at the shortest notice.

All accommodations will be extended by the Subscribers.
John & Martin Sweeney.

Nauvoo.—Extract of a letter from the vicinity of Nauvoo (Ill.)
"The excitement on both sides of the river against the Mormons is increasing very fast. The conduct of Jo Smith and the other leaders, is such as no community of white men can tolerate. It is the entire absence of all moral and religious principles, that renders them so obnoxious to the Gentiles of all denominations, wherever they reside."

"Jo Smith was yesterday arrested between Nauvoo and Quincy, by the authorities of Illinois, on a requisition from the Governor of Missouri. May justice be meted out to him for his villainy."

Died: On the 25th inst., of measles, at New Windsor, Md., Margaretta, aged about 5 years, also at the residence of her father, on the 19th inst., of disease of the brain, Harriet, aged about 7 months—both daughters of J. S. Crawford, Esq., of Cumberland township.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The Crops: The seasonable weather during the present month has been very beneficial to the crops. Oats never promised better, and corn is growing well. The wheat has improved astonishingly, and if nothing untoward occurs, will produce a larger crop than last year.

Pic-Nic: The Gettysburg Band, under Prof. Gundrum, are making arrangements for a Basket Pic-Nic, at Spangler's Spring, on the Fourth of July. A pleasant time may be expected, and a general invitation to the public is extended.

The new five cent coin has made its appearance. It looks pretty whilst new, but its weight and size will prevent it from becoming popular.

There is no doubt but that the admission of Tennessee will be a fact accomplished perhaps by the Fourth of July.—The feeling in favor of it on the Republican side of the House is almost unanimous.

San Francisco is going to be supplied with water from a lake on the Sierra Nevada mountains by an aqueduct two hundred miles long.

Married: On the 11th inst., by Phineas Rogers, Esq., Mr. David K.
Baker to Miss Sarah Ann Ridenour, both of Freedom township, Adams county.

On Saturday morning last, by the Rev. Dr. Hay, Rev. T. C. Pritchard, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, to Miss Lydia Jane, daughter of Mr. John A. Swope, of this place.

On the 21st inst., at the Ger. Ref.
Parsonage, New Oxford, by the Rev. W. F. Davis, Mr. Samuel A.
Gardner, of York Springs, Adams county, to Miss Sarah Ann Buser, near Jefferson, York county.

On the 14th inst., by J. Hanes, Esq., Mr. Geo. Liles to Miss Martha
Dole, all of this county.

On the 19th of June, at the Lutheran Parsonage, by the Rev. E.
Breidenbaugh, Mr. Jonathan Sherman to Miss Naomi Flenner, both of Freedom township.

On the same day, by the same
at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. John Arendt, to Miss Sallie A. Miller, both of Cumberland township.

On the 26th of June, by the same
at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. John Y. McCall, of Chester, Delaware county, to Miss Mary E. Johns, near this place.

On the 3d of June, at the Ev.
Luth. Parsonage, Littlestown, Pa.,
by Rev. S. Henry, Mr. John J. Shaffer, to Miss Emma J. Halfley.

On the 10th of June, at the same place, by the same, Mr. Wm. Copenhaver to Miss Ann Eliza Sterner.

On the 21st of June, at the same place, by the same, Mr. Washington
Jones to Miss Rebecca Grammer.

At McConnellsburg, Pa., on the 7th of June, by Rev. J. H. Mathers, Mr. Samuel E. Wampler, recently of Gettysburg, to Miss Maria M. Shoemaker, of McConnellsburg.

On the 17th of June, by Rev.
Samuel Yingling, Mr. Charles Silmyer, to Miss Magdalene P. Keller, both of Adams county.

On the 21st ult., by the Rev. Jacob Sechler, Mr. Pius Reckrode, to Miss
Susan King, both of Adams county.

Evergreen Cemetery: Annual Election.—The annual election for a President and Seven Managers of Evergreen Cemetery, was held in the Arbitration Room of the Courthouse on Monday evening, June 25th. The following gentlemen were elected:

President—J. L. Schick.
Managers—John Rupp, Samuel
Herbst, G. Little, Andrew Polley,
Alexander Cobean, Geo. Spangler, Josiah Benner.

The new board are understood to be opposed to the burying of the rebel dead in the Cemetery—that being the issue. There was considerable interest manifested on the occasion.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

TEETH ARE IN
"Hey, with a chuckle, and Hey, with a shout!

Here's a new triumph worth boasting about!

Blow on the trumpet and bang on the drum!

Swift as the mornings the glad-nesses come.

Flourish the saber and rattle its sheath—

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

Eyes all a-twinkle and cheeks all aglow;

Mouth all a-smile showing two in a row!

Come, all you neighbors and tradesmen and friends,

Look at them now ere their novelty ends!

Two in the upper and two just beneath;

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

Here is a truly remarkable girl,
Edging her smile with the purest of pearl,

Shaking her rattle and gurgling aloud,

Prouder than ever Queen Sheba was proud.

Crown her with laurel leaves tied in a wreath.

Ellen Elizabeth's cutting her teeth!

JAMES BLOCKS
WITH LITTLE WPA

Sunday Night Conference Brings Agreement On Plans

[By the Associated Press]
Harrisburg, June 30 (AP)—A new obstacle to speedy adjournment of the Legislature, now entering its seventh month, has developed due to refusal of Democratic Assembly leaders to agree to Governor James' proposal to establish a "little WPA"
for those on relief.

The new impasse was reached at a conference last night in the Governor's mansion at which the Governor said he and the Republican and Democratic legislative leaders had practically agreed on a solution to the budgetary deadlock which to date had been the main stumbling block to adjournment.

"Taken Stand for 'Little WPA'"
"We asked the Governor if our agreement was contingent on the little WPA, and he said it was," said Senator Harry Shapiro, the Democratic floor leader in the Senate, after the conference.

"Then I told him: 'Then the agreement is all off' and that's how it stands," Shapiro explained.

James departed for Boston to attend the National Conference of Governors. He will be gone until Thursday. No date for a continuance of the meetings with the Legislature's key men was set.

However, before leaving, the Governor said:

"My office is open at all times. If my ideas are not accepted, I'm willing to listen to any modifications but there ought to be some suitable substitute proposed. We've made considerable progress (on budget items); let's move on to these other problems."

Democrats Disagree With Governor
The Democrats have been in disagreement principally with the Governor's $542,000,000 budget for the current two-year fiscal period which began June 1.

They forced James to take over,
at least temporarily, 12 county mental hospitals which he said would cost $11,000,000. The tentative agreement all but completed at last night's meeting would have given the Governor his point on the hospitals—providing only for taking over the two Allegheny county institutions at Mayview and Woodville at present.

Legislation to postpone the transfer of the other 10 until December 31, 1942, or at the latest, February 1, 1943, was to have been passed by the Democrats before adjournment.
The Democrats also were to have given up their plan to cut a mill from the personal property and bank shares taxes under terms of the agreement under consideration.

"I'm still hopeful that we won't have to start again from scratch," James said. "Those other matters have been largely settled; I don't think we'll have to go into them again."

Will Not Adjourn July 15
Achtman said the results of the conference last night prompted him to "apologize for saying we would adjourn by July 15," a date he had been suggesting all session.

The Governor explained that under his WPA plan, the state would contribute 25 per cent of the cost of a local project if the community used relief labor. He emphasized projects would not be started "simply to employ people" but as necessary local improvements "that the community would do anyway, such as putting in sewer systems."

"The federal government is abolishing the WPA in Pennsylvania, why should the state revive it?"
Shapiro asked.

'Round About Town

Boy Scouts of the York-Adams area are included in an invitation issued by the Baltimore Area Council of the BSA to a mammoth Scout outing at Carlin's Park in Baltimore on Wednesday. Scout executives at Washington, D. C., Hagerstown, Wilmington, Delaware, and the York-Adams area have received invitations to bring scouts from those sections. The park and all its facilities have been reserved especially for Scouts, their parents and guests on Wednesday. Troop equipment prizes are being offered for troops coming the greatest distance, the best drum and bugle corps, the largest number of scouts in uniform and 25 individual prizes.

With daily returns dwindling short of the half-way mark in the Adams county drive for $1,500 in the national campaign for the United Service Organizations engaged in raising funds for recreational programs for men in the service of the United States, the county total today stands at $687.50. Of that total $428.50 came from Gettysburg individuals and organizations.

New legislation which was signed by Governor James only on Thursday changes the filing fee for jury commissioners' nominating petitions at the Court House from $2 to $10,
the Adams County Commissioners have been advised.

Florance Hoke Fowler, 19 West High street, filed her petition at the Court House as a candidate for the Republican nomination for assessor in the Third Ward.

Maurice C. Wareheim, Littlestown, a Democrat, his filed for assessor in the Second Ward of Littletown.

Motorist travel through Gettysburg on Sunday was extremely heavy many of the autists making the trip here to visit the camp of the 71st Coast Artillery on West Confederate avenue.

C. L. Nett, superintendent of the National Cemetery, reported that there were 155 guide trips made Sunday with a total of 579 passengers. On the corresponding date last year there were 171 guide trips and 615 passengers.

The annual food sale and bazaar of the Gettysburg Fire Company closed on Saturday evening with receipts for the evening of $560 which boosted the four-day total to $1,690 exceeding the sum raised in the 1940 event. A parade by the uniformed firemen with local fire fighting apparatus and the Blue and Gray band marked the closing evening. Complete results of the food sale will be announced at a future meeting of the company.

Hospital Report

Mrs. Sally Bender, Tipton apartments, East Middle street, has been admitted as a patient to the Warner Hospital with fractures of her left ankle and arm. She was injured in a fall early Sunday morning while visiting relatives at New Oxford.

John F. Taughinbaugh, Gettysburg R. D., submitted to an operation for the removal of his appendix.

Other admissions over the weekend were Mrs. Thomas J. Wine-brenner, Baltimore street; Daniel Lockman, Ortanna R. D.; Mrs.
Lester Frazer, Hanover street; C.
Richard Miller, Abbottstown, and Mrs. Amalgam Sease, West High street. Those discharged were

Mrs. Keith Sanders and infant daughter, Donna Rae, North Stratton street; Mrs. Harry Lerew and infant son, Lynn Eddy, Bendersville; Mrs. Clarence K. Nett and infant son, Clarence Kenneth, Baltimore street; Mrs. Clair Gochenour, Dillsburg R. D.; Muri Shaffer, Gettysburg, and Nevin Ohler, Taneytown.

C. Fred Stevens, Gettysburg R. D., was treated this morning for an infection of his left hand.

U.S. ARRESTS 29 IN LARGEST HUNT OF 'SPIES'

FBI Action Follows Two-Year Investi- gation

[By the Associated Press]
New York, June 30 (AP)—Among the 29 persons arrested in the government's spectacular week-end roundup of suspected spies, it was learned authoritatively today, were two technicians described as having been for years closely associated with the manufacture of secret Army bomb-sights.

Their attention is centered on two men, Herman Lang, 40, German-born draftsman who was said to have worked since 1934 as a factory inspector of the famous Norden bomb-sight.

Everett Minster Roeder, 47, New York city native, reliably reported to have been a draftsman since 1927 at the Sperry Gyroscope plant in Brooklyn, where the famed Sperry bomb-sights are made.

Meanwhile eight federal agents boarded the Moore-McCormick liner Uruguay when it arrived off Sandy Hook this morning and removed a 50-year-old bedroom steward, described as a naturalized citizen of German birth.

Hoover said the G-men shadowed the suspects for two years and finally "led them into a fly-trap."

Warrants issued here charged the prisoners with transmitting information to foreign nations concerning cargoes on Britain-bound ships, new developments in United States Naval, Army and aircraft products—especially the latter—and transportation by courier of samples of latest armaments.

The alleged spy ring used secret inks for couriers traveling across the Atlantic by clipper planes. Hoover declared a shortwave radio with ocean-spanning range was found in the room of one suspect.

Besides the 18 taken in the metropolitan area and the five already in federal custody, four were arrested in New Jersey and one each in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Maximum penalty for conviction of espionage or conspiracy to commit espionage under the 1917 federal espionage act is 20 years' imprisonment.

In the years the act has been in effect, Hoover pointed out, only 19 persons have been convicted under it.

Only two of the current suspects were native Americans, one each having been born in France, Russia, South Africa, Australia and Moravia, besides the 22 German-born prisoners. All but two of the foreign-born, however, were naturalized Americans, and even these two had taken steps to obtain citizenship papers.

In Mein Kampf

End Of The Russian State Forecast In The Book

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Associated Press Staff Writer

Once Hitler has gained the rich territory he seeks in the west of Russia and has opened a road to Iran and thence back into the Middle East, he is likely to count on collapse of the Soviet government. In Mein Kampf, he foresees ultimate collapse of what he calls "the Jewish dominion in Russia" and he says this will be the end of the Russian state. Since he cannot hope to police all of the Soviet union, it is likely that he envisages a vast "unoccupied zone" which he will dominate with a "German upper stratum."

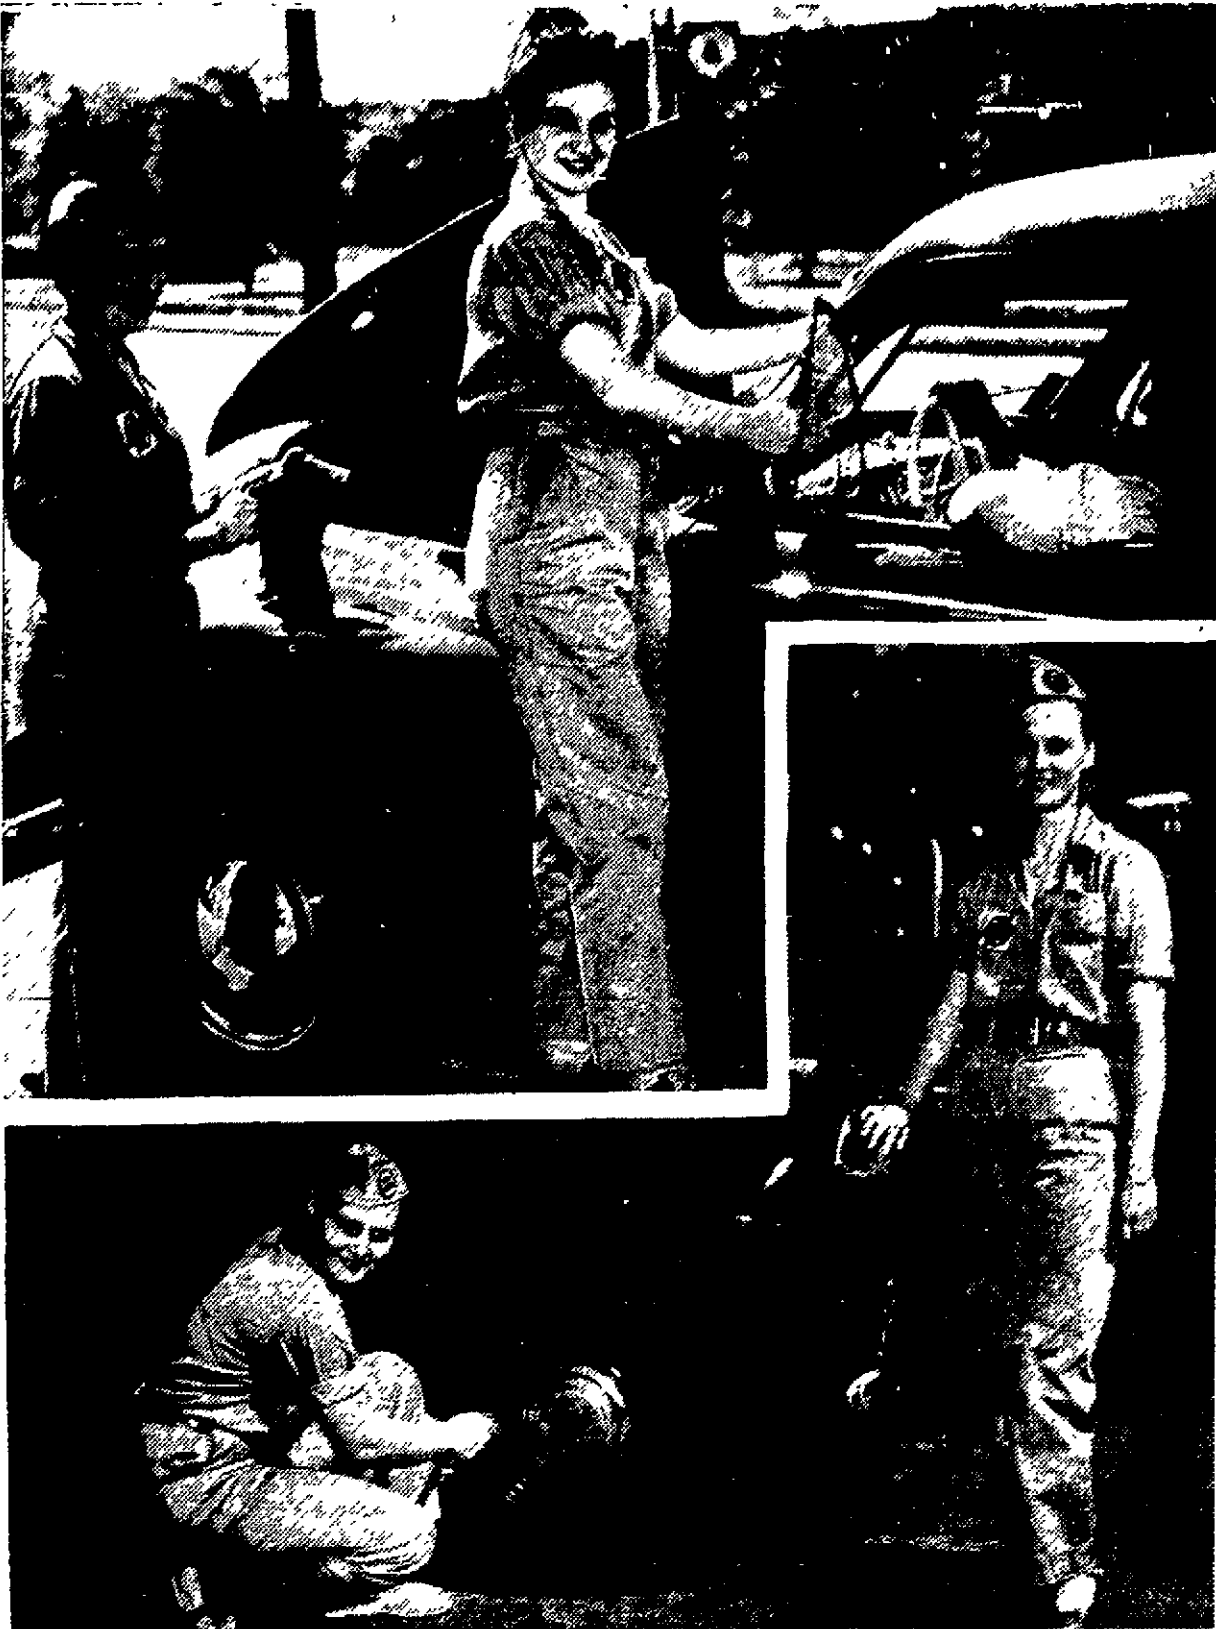

For in Mein Kampf he says: "Thus have innumerable mighty empires of the earth been created. Inferior nations with German organizers and lords as heads have more than once expanded into powerful state structures, and endured as long as the racial nucleus of the constructive state-race maintained itself. For centuries Russia drew nourishment from the Germanic nucleus of its superior strata of leaders."

He will make his own borders for this "unoccupied zone," of course, keeping the productive Ukraine, Caucasus and whatever else he desires for direct and intensive German exploitation.

But he cannot do this with Russia's government army largely intact and its government willing to fight back, even from beyond the Urals, nor can he divert his armed forces for the fight in the West or Middle East so long as there is resistance from an unbeaten or distant Soviet force.

Britain obviously holds some hope that this kind of Russian resistance will, in the long run, permit the existence of an Allied offensive threat to Germany on the Turkish flank. Therein lies the reason for the strenuous British effort to keep the breath of life in the Turkish-British alliance, despite the German-Turkish "friendship pact," and for the speed-up in the British occupation of Syria, on Turkey's border.

Girls Take Over Army Trainees' Jobs

POPE PIUS MAKES SOLEMN PLEA FOR TRUST IN GOD

Speaks A Sunday Message To All The World

[By the Associated Press]
Vatican City, June 30.—In a Sunday message broadcast to the world, Pope Pius XII attributed the sufferings of war to divine providence punishing the signs of mankind, but said the "fierce intensity of the trial" would be followed by a new era of peace and hope.

The Holy Father made no specific mention of the Russian-German conflict, but spoke of the sufferings from war at the fighting front and behind the lines—from bombs, machine-gun bullets, blockade and counter-blockade, and from persecutions endured because of religious faith.

The Pope advised Catholics to trust in God and said that means "believing that God can permit at times here below for some time pre-eminence of atheism and impiety, the lamentable obscuring of a sense of justice, the violation of law, the tormenting of innocent, peaceful, undefended, helpless men."

"Punishment Of Sin"
"It means," he said, "believing that God at times thus lets trials befall individuals and peoples, trials of which the malice of men is the instrument in a design of justice directed toward the punishment of sin, towards purifying persons and peoples through the expiations of this present life and bringing them back by this war to Himself; but it means believing at the same time that this justice always remains here below the justice of a Father inspired and dominated by love."

"New Canticle Of Liberation"
"It means believing finally that the fierce intensity of this trial, like the triumph of evil, will endure even here below only for a fixed time and not longer; that the hour of God will come, the hour of mercy, the hour of holy rejoicing, the hour of the new canticle of liberation, the hour of exultation and joy... the hour in which, after having let the hurricane loose for a moment on humanity, the all-powerful hand of the Heavenly Father with an imperceptible motion will detain it and disperse it and, by ways little known to the mind or to the hopes of men,

justice, calm and peace will be restored to the nations."

He said men, however, were wont to judge as evil "all the physical mishaps on this earth" and declared:

"They have forgotten that suffering stands at the threshold of life as the way that leads to the smiles of the cradle... They have forgotten that the cross is frequently a gift of God..."

Billy Mitchell A Lot Of His Visions Have Come True In This War

Brig. Gen. William Lendrum Mitchell was born December 29, 1879, at Nice, France, son of Senator John L. Mitchell of Wisconsin. He died in New York City February 19, 1936. His life story is a fable for these times.

Growing up in Wisconsin, Mitchell enlisted as a private in the Spanish-American War (1898). In 1899, he served as a first lieutenant on the staff of Gen. Arthur MacArthur in the Philippine insurrection, being then the youngest officer in the U.S. Army.

Assorted tours of duty followed, in Alaska, at Fort Leavenworth (Army School of the Line), and at the Army College in Washington. In 1915, Mitchell began to study aviation at the Curtiss flying school at Newport News, Va. He was in Spain when we declared war April 6, 1917, and went at once to Paris. He became the first American officer to fly over the German lines, and shortly thereafter was appointed chief of the AEF Air Service.

Mitchell was a fighting flier. He commanded in France a larger force of airplanes than had ever been in combat up to that time. Among the decorations he collected were the DSC, Distinguished Service Medal, Croix de Guerre with Five Palms, Legion of Honor.

Mitchell became America's ace agitator for a unified air force under its own command, equal in dignity and authority with the commands of the Army and the Navy.

It was this persistent getting into the hair of the generals and admirals that finally brought Mitchell to alleged disgrace.

He believed the airplane to be the master weapon of the future. Innumerable conversations with influential people, this writer included, Mitchell word-pictured wars in which planes would sink battleships, transport troops and supplies, ruin enemy cities. He claimed that the French finally broke the great Syrian Druse rebellion of 1925-27 by killing or dispersing the Druses' cattle with bombs dropped from planes.

Mitchell, said ex-Chief of Staff Charles P. Summerall, was "one of that damned kind of soldier who is wonderful in war and terrible in peace"—because he couldn't keep his mouth discreetly buttoned in peacetime.

In 1920, Mitchell said he could sink a fighting ship from a plane. Congress authorized a test in 1923, and Mitchell made good. The Navy General Board's report of the details was not published.

In February, 1925, Mitchell said out loud that the War Department was "quite incapable of grasping, handling or administering air power in an efficient manner." It was this remark that brought about his ten-month trial by court-martial, ending in his suspension from rank and command January 25, 1926, and in his retirement from the Army the next day.

The wheel has now come round, and a lot of Mitchell's visions have come true in the present war. More of them are likely to come true as air power evolves.

NEW HOUSES ARE BEING BUILT ON CODORI PLOT

Real Estate Development Scene of $60,- 000 Program

Gettysburg's newest and most extensive real estate development in several years is the scene of a $60,000 building program that may reach proportions double that amount before the end of the summer in the opinion of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Codori.

The new development, which has reached its present proportions only since last November when the land was bought from the Winter estate, contains 75 lots arranged on a plan that follows drawings made originally for the man who planned some of Gettysburg's most attractive residential sections.

Through the 22-acre plot that extends from the north borough line along the extension of East Broadway to Gettysburg furniture factory, the land on the south across East Lincoln avenue, Barlow street, Coster avenue and Water street extensions, new streets will be developed. There have been extensions of East Lincoln avenue, North Fourth street and East Broadway already ordained as town streets as well as a section of the Harrisburg road which now has become Harrisburg street.

Semi-Circular Drive
South from the extension of Barlow street, which is to be opened and graded this summer, will swing a semi-circular drive, tentatively marked as Park avenue on the plans. That drive will connect with the eastern terminus of the present Coster avenue. The extension of Lincoln avenue already has been lined on both sides with young maples and similar plantings will be made along the curb lines of the other streets. Water lines are being laid now in the East Broadway extension and sewer lines already have been run along the Harrisburg road.

The first building to be erected on the tract was the duplex house now occupied by the families of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stock and Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Basset. Only some work on the grounds surrounding the Stock dwelling remains to be done to complete that property.

Other Houses Underway
The lot adjoining the Stock property on the south has been bought by Mrs. Mary Knox, Steinwehr avenue, and a house will be started there soon. Elvin Dern, East Lincoln avenue, has a red brick house going under roof on the next lot to the south.

Last week D. Guy Wolf began excavation for the foundation of another new home on Harrisburg street, adjoining the Dern property on the south.

A combination stone, brick and clapboard dwelling is progressing rapidly on the East Broadway extension. Robert Codori is the owner. Last Thursday ground was broken for a new home for Walter A. Keeney, near the Stock home on East Broadway.

TINY BABY FLOURISHES
Uniontown, June 30 (AP)—Harold Eugene Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams, weighed only 24 ounces at birth three months ago—but now he tips the scales at eight pounds. With the aid of a home-made "incubator" and constant attention the baby flourished.

July 4 In Md. On That Day State Will Eliminate Worst Drivers

(From the Baltimore Sun)

There is much to be said for the argument of the Traffic Safety Commission, approved by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, that the Fourth of July holiday will afford a fine opportunity to eliminate some of the worst drivers in Maryland. If a motorist is fool enough to drive recklessly when the roads are crowded, as they will be during that holiday, it is fairly obvious that he will be as much of a fool when traffic is lighter, and, therefore, he should be taken off the road in the interest of public safety.

The Safety Commission suggests that anyone arrested for any of seven specified traffic violations during this period be called before the commissioner and required to show cause why his license should not be revoked. Commissioner Elgin has given tentative approval to the suggestion, but it is to be hoped that he will go further. The offenses specified are:

- Excessive speed, or speed too fast for conditions.
- Falling to keep to the right of the center of the road.
- Failing to signal when turning or stopping.
- Failure to observe stop signs or signals.
- Passing on hills or curves.
- Failing to dim headlights, or other violations that could be responsible for accidents.
- Operating a motorcar while under the influence of liquor.

U.S. ARMY AND NAVY NUMBERS 1,760,046 MEN

337 Fighting Ships And Nearly 8,000 Planes

[By the Associated Press]
Washington, June 30.—Armed forces of the United States totaled 1,760,046 officers and men, the Army, Navy and Marine Corps reported today at the close of the fiscal year. Fewer than a third as many were in uniform 12 months ago.

The latest statistical picture of the nation's defense power showed:

Men—Army 1,441,500, including 505,700 regulars, 288,800 National Guardsmen, 53,000 Reserve Officers and 594,000 Selective Service recruits; Navy 264,798, Marine Corps 53,748.

Ships—337 fighting craft, 438 large auxiliaries and 1,038 relatively small "district" craft in service, and 438 combat vessels under construction. In actual service are 15 battleships aside from two which have been commissioned and a third which has been launched; six aircraft carriers; 37 cruisers, 158 destroyers and 111 submarines.

Air—More than 4,000 Army planes in service; the beginning of a force of 46,000, Navy, 3,489, including Naval Reserve craft; Marine Corps, 215.

Scissors are very convenient to use for trimming off the crusts of small sandwiches or canapés.

[By the Associated Press]
New York, June 30 (AP)—Among the 29 persons arrested in the government's spectacular week-end roundup of suspected spies, it was learned authoritatively today, were two technicians described as having been for years closely associated with the manufacture of secret Army bombsights.

Their attention is centered on two men, Herman Lang, 40, German-born draftsman who was said to have worked since 1934 as a factory inspector of the famous Norden bombsight.

Everett Minster Roeder, 47, New York city native, reliably reported to have been a draftsman since 1927 at the Sperry Gyroscope plant in Brooklyn where the famed Sperry bombsights are made.

Meanwhile eight federal agents boarded the Moore-McCormick liner Uruguay when it arrived off Sandy Hook this morning and removed a 50-year-old bedroom steward, described as a naturalized citizen of German birth.

Warrants issued here charged the prisoners with transmitting information to foreign nations concerning cargoes on Britain-bound ships, new developments in United States Naval, Army and aircraft products—especially the latter—and transportation by courier of samples of latest armaments.

The alleged spy ring used secret links for couriers traveling across the Atlantic by clipper planes. Hoover declared a shortwave radio with ocean-spanning range was found in the room of one subject.

Besides the 18 taken in the metropolitan area and the five already in federal custody, four were arrested in New Jersey and one each in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Maximum penalty for conviction of espionage or conspiracy to commit espionage under the 1917 federal espionage act is 30 years' imprisonment.

In the years the act has been in effect, Hoover pointed out, only 19 persons have been convicted under it.

Only two of the current suspects were native Americans, one each having been born in France, Russia, South Africa, Australia and Moravia, besides the 22 German-born prisoners. All but two of the foreign-born, however, were naturalized Americans, and even these two had taken steps to obtain citizenship papers.

In Mein Kampf

End Of The Russian State Forecast In The Book

By FRED VANDER SCHMIDT
Associated Press Staff Writer

Once Hitler has gained the rich territory he seeks in the west of Russia and has opened a road to Iran and thence back into the Middle East, he is likely to count on collapse of the Soviet government. In Mein Kampf, he foresees ultimate collapse of what he calls "the Jewish dominion in Russia" and he says this will be the end of the Russian state. Since he cannot hope to police all of the Soviet union, it is likely that he envisages a vast "unoccupied zone" which he will dominate with a "German upper stratum."

For in Mein Kampf he says: "Thus have innumerable mighty empires of the earth been created. Inferior nations with German or organizer and lords as leaders have more than once expanded into powerful state structures, and endured as long as the racial nucleus of the constructive state-race maintained itself. For centuries Russia drew nourishment from the Germanic nucleus of its superior strata of leaders."

He will make his own borders for this "unoccupied zone," of course, keeping the productive Ukraine, Caucasus and whatever else he desires for direct and intensive German exploitation.

But he cannot do this with Russia's government army largely intact and its government willing to fight back, even from beyond the Urals, nor can he divert his armed forces for the fight in the West or Middle East so long as there is resistance from an unbeaten or distant Soviet force.

Britain obviously holds some hope that this kind of Russian resistance will, in the long run, permit the existence of an Allied offensive threat to Germany on the Turkish flank. Therein lies the reason for the strenuous British effort to keep the breath of life in the Turkish-British alliance, despite the German-Turkish "friendship pact," and for the speed-up in the British occupation of Syria, on Turkey's border.

POPE PIUS MAKES SOLEMN PLEA FOR TRUST IN GOD

Speaks A Sunday Message To All The World

[By the Associated Press]
Vatican City, June 30.—In a Sunday message broadcast to the world, Pope Pius XII attributed the sufferings of war to divine providence punishing the signs of mankind, but said the "fierce intensity of the trial" would be followed by a new era of peace and hope.

The Holy Father made no specific mention of the Russian-German conflict, but spoke of the sufferings from war at the fighting front and behind the lines—from bombs, machine-gun bullets, blockade and counter-blockade, and from persecutions endured because of religious faith.

The Pope advised Catholics to trust in God and said that means "believing that God can permit at times here below for some time pre-eminence of atheism and impiety, the lamentable obscuring of a sense of justice, the violation of law, the tormenting of innocent, peaceful, undefended, helpless men."

"Punishment Of Sin"
"It means," he said, "believing that God at times thus lets trials befall individuals and peoples, trials of which the malice of men is the instrument in a design of justice directed toward the punishment of sin, towards purifying persons and peoples through the expiations of this present life and bringing them back by this way to Himself; but it means believing at the same time that this justice always remains here below the justice of a Father inspired and dominated by love."

"New Cantic of Liberation"
"It means believing finally that the fierce intensity of this trial, like the triumph of evil, will endure even here below only for a fixed time and not longer; that the hour of God will come, the hour of mercy, the hour of holy rejoicing, the hour of the new cantic of liberation, the hour of exultation and joy * * * the hour in which, after having let the hurricane loose for a moment on humanity, the all-powerful hand of the Heavenly Father with an imperceptible motion will detain it and disperse it and, by ways little known to the mind or to the hopes of men,

He said men, however, were wont to judge as evil "all the physical mishaps on this earth" and declared:

"They have forgotten that suffering stands at the threshold of life as the way that leads to the smiles of the cradle * * *. They have forgotten that the cross is frequently a gift of God * * *"

Billy Mitchell A Lot Of His Visions Have Come True In This War

Brig. Gen. William Lendrum Mitchell was born December 29, 1879, at Nice, France, son of Senator John L. Mitchell of Wisconsin. He died in New York City February 19, 1936. His life story is a fable for these times.

Growing up in Wisconsin, Mitchell enlisted as a private in the Spanish-American War (1898). In 1899, he served as a first lieutenant on the staff of Gen. Arthur MacArthur in the Philippine insurrection, being then the youngest officer in the U. S. Army.

Assorted tours of duty followed. In Alaska, at Fort Leavenworth (Army School of the Line), and at the Army College in Washington. In 1915, Mitchell began to study aviation at the Curtiss flying school at Newport News, Va. He was in Spain when we declared war April 6, 1917, and went at once to Paris. He became the first American officer to fly over the German lines, and shortly thereafter was appointed chief of the AEP Air Service.

Mitchell was a fighting flier. He commanded in France a larger force of airplanes than had ever been in combat up to that time. Among the decorations he collected were the DSC, Distinguished Service Medal, Croix de Guerre with Five Palms, Legion of Honor.

July 4 In Md.

On That Day State Will Eliminate Worst Drivers

(From the Baltimore Sun)

There is much to be said for the argument of the Traffic Safety Commission, approved by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, that the Fourth of July holiday will afford a fine opportunity to eliminate some of the worst drivers in Maryland. If a motorist is fool enough to drive recklessly when the roads are crowded, as they will be during that holiday, it is fairly obvious that he will be as much of a fool when traffic is lighter, and, therefore, he should be taken off the road in the interest of public safety.

The Safety Commission suggests that anyone arrested for any of seven specified traffic violations during this period be called before the commissioner and required to show cause why his license should not be revoked. Commissioner Elgin has given tentative approval to the suggestion, but it is to be hoped that he will go further. The offenses specified are:

Excessive speed, or speed too fast for conditions.
Failing to keep to the right of the center of the road.
Failing to signal when turning or stopping.

Failure to observe stop signs or signals.
Passing on hills or curves.
Failing to dim headlights, or other violations that could be responsible for accidents.

Operating a motorcar while under the influence of liquor.
Each of these is definitely a danger to others who are using the road, therefore each is doubly dangerous when traffic is unusually heavy. A man who is not more than ordinarily careful when traffic is heavy is proved by that very fact to be a bad driver; and any action that will eliminate a few bad drivers will contribute to public safety on the highways. The approaching holiday undoubtedly will afford an opportunity to identify some of the worst drivers, and if the commissioner seizes the opportunity to take away their licenses he will thereby make the roads safer for the rest of the year.

Rent Control Is "Torn To Pieces"
Washington, June 30 (AP)—The administration, it was disclosed today, has presented compulsory price-fixing legislation to Congress, only to have it "literally torn to pieces" and rejected by legislative leaders.

The legislation, congressional authorities reported, would have authorized a limit form of price and rent control, restricted to defense areas.

Informed sources said the proposal was submitted to Speaker Rayburn and other congressional leaders by Leon Henderson, price control administrator and his aides.

HEARTBREAK HONEYMOON

YESTERDAY Henry and Luella Pell have just taken their first apartment in New York. Henry is taking over his first important job. It's all too good to be true to Luella—even though Marie Mason, the girl who set Henry aside for a radio job in New York, is pretty close to comfort. But hasn't Henry promised to love and cherish Luella as herself and isn't that enough?

Chapter Four BIG PLANS

AND just as soon as we get settled, said Henry, "I want to show you that the good old Southern hospitality isn't just a legend. My boss says contacts mean a lot to a business man in New York. We've got to entertain—have folks up—make them like us. Be charming, all sorts of thing."

"But you didn't have to do that down home," Luella reminded. "Not that you weren't charming, darling—but I mean people did business with you whether you entertained 'em or not."

"Sure, I know that. But competition is keener up here. A fellow has to pull strings. We've got to circulate among the right people, Luella—mix with the Who's Who crowd—step out, invite and get invited."

"An other case of keeping up with the Joneses," Luella said.

"Not exactly. I don't mean that we've got to live beyond my income—nothing like that."

"Yes, my Lord and Master," said Luella. But away down deep she was afraid, wondering if she with her smalltown background and old-fashioned ideas about things in general, would ever fit in with the Who's Who folks. "I haven't forgotten that I took you for better or worse, and you can count on me. I know that, don't you, Henry?"

"You bet I do," Henry said. "We'll look up a good negro woman for atmosphere as well as for working, and show folks that the Pell's still know how to live gracefully."

"But how are you going to meet all these people?" Luella asked. "Or any people at all, for that matter?"

"The men at the office will see to that," Henry answered. "Already they are mentioning dinners and parties and such like. You'll meet their wives a little later on, and almost before you know it, you'll be an habitual hostess. After all, I am the man who put over some pretty big deals in transferring North Carolina and Florida property, and that gives me a bit of prestige to start off with."

"Yes, Henry, I know, but—"

"No buts, sweet! . . . You just see that our New York home is as beautiful as its Illinois, and leave all the rest to old Henry Pell."

"Yes, Henry."

Henry's News

That had been nearly two weeks before.

And now Luella and Henry were rapidly getting settled in their new home.

While Henry was busy getting the hang of things at the office, Luella was busy trying to set the hang of the curtains in the living room, standing up on a step-ladder, she gave a last touch to the rich, old-rose brocade that had hung in the parlor of the house down in the old hometown.

Presently she got down from the ladder, and you can count about her. The room was perfect!

All the pieces of furniture which she adored were in place. The chest of drawers which had gone through the Civil War, and which her grandmother had left her, stood between the two tall front windows, its rich deep red woodwork fairly shining. The brass candlesticks which Henry's great uncle had given them, stood upon it.

In the room and end of the long, high-ceilinged room stood the dining table which had been in Luella's family for a forgotten number of generations. Its glowing surface seemed to be smiling upon the room, catching the gleam of the rose bowl which had been one of

man, to make a fourth."

"Do I have to dress?" Luella asked, as she put a chop and a potato on Henry's plate.

"Marie said she would wear the gown she broadcasts in, so you might wear a simple dinner gown, or even the frock you wore up here."

"Yes, sir," said Luella. "It looks as though the Pell's were about to be launched. I only hope they don't break champagne over our heads."

Henry laughed. "Thank God, my darling's got a sense of humor," he said. And then, more seriously: "Marie knows a lot of important people, and she told me that when she realized that I was something of a successful land broker she immediately thought of several men who might mean a great deal to me."

"Marie always was a generous girl," said Luella. "More butter for your potato?"

"Thanks," Henry held out his plate. "Listen, honey, you don't sound terribly enthusiastic about seeing Marie. Or am I imagining things?"

"Of course it'll be fun seeing her," said Luella. "You are imagining things."

"Boy, I could do with a little fun," Henry said. "So could you. We've been working pretty hard these past few weeks. It's high time we relaxed a little, and got a glimpse of New York's night life."

"How's your chop?" said Luella, changing the subject so suddenly that Henry grinned.

"Perfect," he said.

"It ought to be! Heaven knows, I had to pay enough for it."

"Well, let's not spoil it by discussing its cost," said Henry. He put more butter on his potato.

"From now on the Pell's are going to discuss important things for more important than the price of a lamb chop. We'll leave that to the servants."

"That servants?"

"I mean when we get them," said Henry. And went on. "Tonight were the guests of radio's rising young star, Miss Marie Mason, from the old hometown. I'll bet she's a regular glamor girl by now."

"From now on the Pell's are going to discuss important things for more important than the price of a lamb chop. We'll leave that to the servants."

"That's a funny thing to say," Henry gave his wife a quick look. He remarked.

New Books

By John Selby

"QUINCIE BOLIVIER," by Mary King (Houghton Mifflin: $2.50).

Houghton Mifflin have been lucky to date in their so-called "literary fellowship" books. These have included a number of books which are distinct additions to American literature; Jenny Ballow's "Spanish Prelude," Maurine Whipple's "Giant Joshua" and Robert Penn Warren's "Night Rider," among others. Now comes still another, Mary King's "Quincie Bolivier," and this in some ways is the best of the lot.

Miss King is telling the story of the Texas oil fields, but not primarily of oil. The town she describes is not a boom town and is not the center of a great field—it is a bywater, and the oil is slowly petering out, at least on the level to which the wells are drilled. The town lives for and by this oil, yet oil has not obliterated all the agriculture of the neighborhood. Not quite.

And in any case Miss King is writing about people, and not presenting a fictional report on an industry. She is writing about Curtin Bolivier, the drifter, and Quincie, who is his dark and often enigmatic little daughter. And about Judith Paradise, into whose boarding house the Bollivers drift one morning, very hungry and very broke. And Fern who powders her vacant face from a purple can and her silent husband Clay and the children who burned to death because Fern simply had to see a movie. And Judith's smug daughter Ellie, and the little woman in white who could find things and tell fortunes, and the Mexican woman who did not mix with the Mexican section hands and their families. Of these and others.

Miss King moves these people forward through time, beginning with Quincie as a pre-adolescent and ending with the day when her father no longer can endure Judith's sharp tongue and the agony of being rooted to one spot. On this day Curtin Bolivier walks out of town, for the first time without the daughter he had dragged about the South through all her childhood. Quincie must stay behind, for she is married.

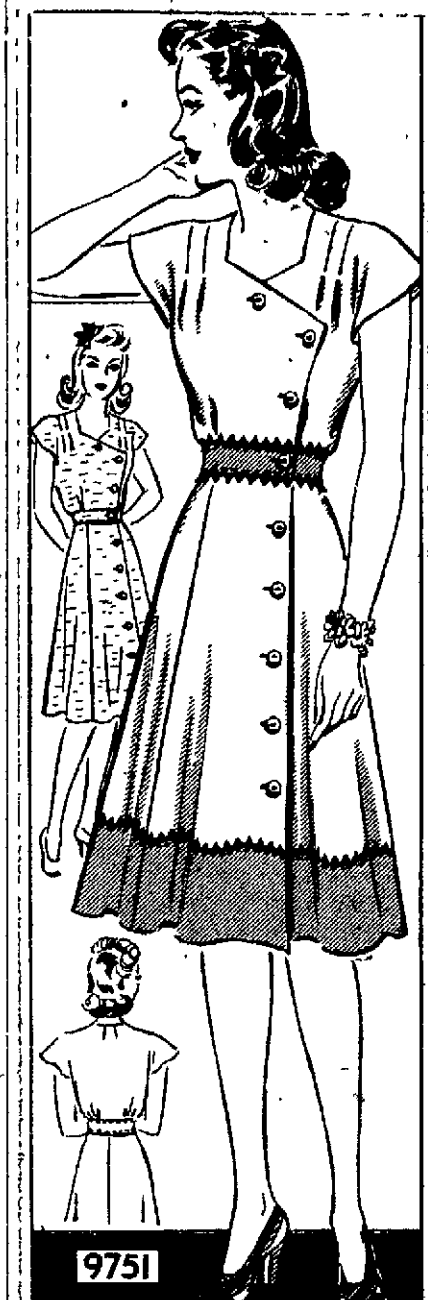

The book is painfully honest at times. Its imagery is extraordinarily fresh, the dialogue is superb, and the sense of living inside the minds (and hearts) of the characters is never lost to the reader from page one to page 425.

More persons have heard owls than have seen them, because most owls are active at night. A finger ring with a built-in cigarette lighter has been patented.

U. S. MAY HAVE FLEET OF SUPER 82-TON BOMBERS

First One Undergoes Successful Test; Costs $3,500,000

[By the Associated Press]

March Field, Calif., June 30—Its maiden flight completed, the Douglas B-19, described by the Army air corps as the world's biggest bomber, was groomed today for a long series of test hops which probably will determine whether this country will build a fleet of super-dreadnaughts of the air.

Such a fleet, based on the experimental work which went into the $3,500,000 monster, with a fully loaded weight of 82 tons, is more than a mere possibility.

Responsible military opinion has held ever since the start of the European war that with air power's coming of age, larger, faster and more heavily armed battleplanes inevitably will follow.

For comparison with the big bomber which Friday was flown from the factory at Santa Monica to March field, a distance of 75 miles, the standard American "heavy" bomber in production today weighs about 22 tons.

Naval Flying Boat Next

A Navy flying boat, also experimental in nature and expected to have approximately the same weight as the B-19, is under construction at an eastern seaboard factory, and it was disclosed for the first time Friday, that a contract for a bomber of about 50 tons has been signed by the air corps with another aircraft factory.

Where the second monster bomber for the Army will be built was not stated.

It was an uneasy, keyed-up group of factory and air corps officials which watched the propellers of the B-19's four 2,000-horsepower Wright engines suddenly begin spinning at takeoff power at the far end of the Clover Field runway.

Engineers had figured what the plane, with its 212-foot wingspread, would do when the power was poured to it, but the proof of the pudding was the eating. Donald Douglas, president of the company which built it, had been so harried by last minute details he had lost a pre-takeoff manuscript of his speech.

Maj. Stanley M. Umstead of Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, the Army's chief test pilot, admitted after the flight, "maybe I was a little nervous." He over-controlled on both takeoff and landing, because, as he put it, the ship responded so sensitively.

Privates Get Glimpse

The flight was an event of such importance that a score of privates in the March field guardhouse were given temporary liberty so they could gawk at the new arrival.

It was not without its humor. For five minutes W. W. (Dutch) Holloway, TWA transport pilot who has flown 2,000,000 miles, turned this way and that at the controls of an airliner carrying spectators, trying to get out of the B-19's line of flight.

"Is that thing off my tail yet," he yelled back into the cabin.

HOUSING MEN MEET

State College, Pa., June 30 (AP)—Defense housing, accounting for more than 80 per cent of the $40,000,000 public housing program now under way in the state, was scheduled for consideration Saturday at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Housing Authorities. Clark Foreman, director of defense housing for the Federal Works Agency, was listed as the principal speaker.

GLIDING DEMONSTRATION

Elmhurst, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—The role of gliders in modern warfare will be demonstrated for the next two weeks under the watchful eyes of U. S. Army observers in a soaring meet to which Russian pilots have been invited as a "friendly gesture."

A tank truck was first used for shipping milk in 1914.

TWO PAY FINES

Brooks Hess, Chambersburg street, and Pinkney Hess, Breckenridge street, who were arrested early Saturday morning at the Panorama Inn, paid $5 fines and the costs later that day before Justice of the Peace John H. FOLKS WHO NEED LOANS

TO READ ABOUT THIS PLAN

HAVE you a money problem which a personal loan will help you solve? You can borrow up to $300, without endorsers or guarantors, if you can make small monthly payments. You needn't even come to this office to apply for your loan. Just mail a letter or the coupon below. We will send you complete information without obligation.

Suppose that you need $100. The table below shows that 18 monthly installments of $6.97 each will repay your loan in full. You may prefer to make larger payments and thus reduce the cost. Twelve monthly installments of $9.75 each, for instance, will also repay a $100 loan in full.

Get your loan for less

Payments in the table include all charges. Charges are calculated at Household's rate of 2 1/4% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge a substantially higher rate than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. We publish our payments and rate of charge so that you may compare costs before you borrow.

Send the coupon now for free booklet containing full information. No obligation to borrow!

All you do

All you do to apply for your loan is to acquaint us with your problem. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. But we attach far more importance to character and regular income than to the value of security. It is unnecessary to ask outsiders to sign the loan papers with you. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your credit.

HEARTBREAK HONEYMOON

YESTERDAY: Henry and Luella Pell have just taken their first apartment in New York, and Henry is taking over his first important job. It's all too good to be true to Luella—even though Marie Mason, the girl who set Henry aside for a radio job in New York, is pretty close for comfort. But hasn't Henry promised to love and cherish, Luella asks herself—and isn't that enough?

Chapter Four BIG PLANS
AND just as soon as we get settled, said Henry, "I want to show people that the good old Southern hospitality isn't just a legend. My boss says contacts mean a lot to a business man in New York. "I suppose a girl like Marie has very little time to think about the price of a lamb chop."

"That's a funny thing to say," Henry gave his wife a quick look. He remarked:

WELL, WE HAVE GOT OL' POPEYE IN DAVEY JONES' LOCKER

HE'S IN THERE, TALKING TO MRS. JONES. DON'T LET HIM OUT, I'LL GO TELL DAVEY

WELL, THAT CAN WAIT, SAID LUELLA. "THE DINNER CAN'T GO GET READY. EVERYTHING'LL BE STONE COLD."

"I'll take a quick shower and be right with you!" said Henry.

He hurried on into the bedroom. While he bathed, Luella broiled the chops. They were on the table when Henry came in, wearing a pair of tennis slacks and an old sweater.

Glamor For Henry
"Mind if I eat like this?" he asked. "I don't want to dress to go out just yet."

"You look sweet," said Luella. "Like a college boy. Sit down, and I'll serve you. What time is the broadcast?"

"Ten o'clock," said Henry. "But we have to be there at least ten minutes before we can't get in."

He sank down into his chair. "We're dancing afterwards, Marie's bringing along a Mr. McIntyre, a radio man, to make a fourth."

"Do I have to dress?" Luella asked, as she put a chop and a potato on Henry's plate.

"Yes, sir," said Luella. "It looks as though the Pellis were about to be launched. I only hope they don't break champagne over our heads."

Henry laughed. "Thank God, my darling's got a sense of humor," he said. And then, more seriously: "Marie knows a lot of important people, and she told me that when she realized that I was something of a successful land broker she immediately thought of several men who might mean a great deal to me. I call that being a real pal."

"Marie always was a generous girl," said Luella. "More butter for your potato?"

"Thanks," Henry held out his plate. "Listen, honey, you don't sound terribly enthusiastic about seeing Marie. Or am I imagining things?"

"Of course it'll be fun seeing her," said Luella. "You are imagining things."

"Boy, I could do with a little fun," Henry said. "So could you. We've been working pretty hard these past few weeks. It's high time we relaxed a little, and got a glimpse of New York's night life."

"How's your chop?" said Luella, changing the subject so suddenly that Henry grinned.

"Perfect," he said. "It ought to be! Heaven knows, I had to pay enough for it."

"Well, let's not spoil it by discussing its cost," said Henry. He put more butter on his potato. "From now on the Pellis are going to discuss important things for more important than the price of a lamb chop. We'll leave that to the servants."

"What servants?"

"I mean when we get them," said Henry. And went on: "Tonight we're the guests of radio's rising young star, Miss Marie Mason, from the old hometown. I'll bet she's a regular glamor girl by now."

"No doubt," said Luella. "She always had the makings of one."

"And it's up to us," said Henry, "to show her we've got no hayseed in our hair."

"I suppose a girl like Marie has very little time to think about the price of a lamb chop."

"That's a funny thing to say," Henry gave his wife a quick look. He remarked:

DEATH

Donald C. Appenzeller
New York, June 30 (AP)—Donald Cameron Appenzeller, 64, widely known New York stock broker, died suddenly at his Park avenue home today of acute indigestion.

He was associated with the firm of Loeb, Rhoades and Company, a native of Chambersburg, Pa., he came to New York in 1899 and after five years as a newspaper reporter for the old Evening Journal and the New York City News Association he entered Wall street as a customer's man.

Chambersburg street to the square; thence on Baltimore street to Steinwehr avenue; on Steinwehr avenue to the Taneytown road thence on Taneytown road to the gates of the battlefield, passing the reviewing stand on the colonnade of the National Museum where the distinguished guests will be assembled.

When the procession passes the reviewing stand the guests will be escorted on a short-cut route to the dedicatory rostrum at the Longstreet memorial site to arrive there before the procession reaches that point.

The men in the parade will board army trucks and other motor vehicles and ride the balance of the parade route through the battlefield, over Big Round Top to the Longstreet site.

Parking Restrictions
Burgess Heiges announced that parking will be prohibited along the line of march on Chambersburg and Baltimore streets and on Steinwehr avenue from 11 o'clock Wednesday morning until the conclusion of the parade. No parking will be permitted on either side of the street during that interval.

Pennsylvania motor police will assist local police in enforcing this edict.

LeRoy Winebrenner will be the grand marshal with Major Generals Evans and Hudgins as aides.

Those at the conference included: Superintendent Coleman, Colonel Timberlake and Lt. L. B. DeVille, Joseph Rosensteel, Roy Alexander of the American Legion, C. L. Nett, United Spanish War Veterans; Sergeant J. C. Grey and Corporal F. C. Russell, of the Pennsylvania motor police; William Allison, S. G. Solenberger and Horace Smiley, of the Park Service, and LeRoy Winebrenner.

Special Parking Area
Spectators who plan to attend the exercises at the dedication of the site for the Longstreet memorial Wednesday afternoon on the battlefield will have a special parking area reserved for them.

Motorists and pedestrians are directed to go to the site by way of the Emmitsburg road or Confederate avenue and to drive to the entrance station on the Emmitsburg road. The parking area reserved for their machines is in the rear of the entrance station. They may then walk a few hundred feet to the dedicatory site.

No automobiles, other than those in the parade, will be permitted to park on the battlefield proper at the site.

Burgess Issues Proclamation
Burgess C. A. Heiges issued the following proclamation this morning:

"I, C. A. Heiges, Burgess of Gettysburg, do hereby proclaim July 1 and 2 as Longstreet Days in Gettysburg and heartily welcome all those who visit our city during the dedication of the site for the erection of the statue of Gen. James Longstreet.

"I hereby call upon the business places and citizens of our city to display the American flag during these two days."

Local Driver Faces Reckless Charge

Levi P. Plank, Gettysburg, has been charged before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorff, Oxford Township, with reckless driving through a section marked by caution signs in which state motor police from Gettysburg were checking traffic on the Carlisle road north of Hanover on Friday evening.

William C. Martin, Springfield, Ohio, has been charged with speeding at 66 miles an hour before Justice of the Peace William D. Brown, Straban Township.

State motor police from Gettysburg made both arrests.

94 DEGREES TODAY

Before 2 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had climbed a fraction above the 94-degree mark in official instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer, making this one of the hottest days of the summer. Readings above 90 were taken here daily over the week-end.

Pennsylvanians Greet Sons As Coast Artillery From Fort Story Carries Out Maneuvers Here

1,700 Soldiers Of Anti-Aircraft Regiment To Join In Longstreet Program

within a hundred miles of Gettysburg their first opportunity to visit the trainees since they joined up, and to participate in the ceremonies surrounding the dedication of the General Longstreet memorial site here on Wednesday afternoon.

The regimental commander in camp here with his men is Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Timberlake, a ninth generation officer in the American Army, one of whose ancestors was an aid to General Washington.

Joyous family reunions were the order of the day at the 71st camp on Sunday. All of the soldiers who were visited by friends here were granted 48-hour leaves of absence after the noon meal Sunday and many took advantage of that opportunity to make a trip home. They are required to be back in camp here before retreat Tuesday. Leaves were granted up to half the strength of the regiment.

Eat Ton and Half of Chicken
The soldiers' visitors were guests of the Army at dinner at camp on Sunday and the soldiers and their friends consumed a ton and a half of fried chicken. The menu included creamed corn, candied sweet potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, cookies, bread and butter, jellies and pickles, coffee, milk and ice cream. The meal was prepared in the "rolling kitchens" attached to the regiment in which meals are prepared for the troops on the road or on camp and are ready to serve on the hour. Special gas stoves mounted on large kitchen trucks furnish the heat.

Before the unit came here hundreds of invitations were mailed to relatives within a 100-mile radius of Gettysburg to come here Sunday to see their boys and more than 800 letters of acceptance were received. Hundreds of visitors slept in cars at the camp grounds or along the battlefield avenues near camp.

The camp section was turned over to visitors for inspection on Sunday. Motorized and ordnance equipment was labelled and descriptive posters gave information to the visitors on the uses and capacities of the weapons and other equipment.

Searchlight Display Attractive
While about 75 per cent of the men in camp are enlisted men or draftees from Pennsylvania, most of the others are from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. The camp area was a mecca for sightseers and visitors for the entire week-end.

Saturday night's display by the huge searchlights placed around the town in the anti-aircraft defense attracted many to the area as the long pencils of white light laced the sky and were visible for 15 miles or more from Gettysburg.

The big searchlights are 60 inches in diameter and have an effective range of 15,000 yards or about eight miles. They operate on 100-volt current and use 150 amperes. Saturday night they spotted and followed an airplane from the 103rd Observation Squadron which came here for the purposes of the maneuvers while gun crews manning 3-inch anti aircraft and 37 mm guns "fired" on the plane with dummy ammunition, going through all of the operations that would be used in actual combat.

All of the gun and light positions were photographed from the air Saturday afternoon to see if camouflage work was effective from the air.

Resume Maneuvers Today
The maneuvers ended by 10 o'clock Saturday evening to be resumed this afternoon and evening as tactical problems being solved here are continued.

Sunday morning's schedule at the camp included religious services which were conducted by Catholic and Protestant Army chaplains accompanying the troops. The Catholic services were held first and attracted about 200 men. The Protestant services followed and were attended by about an equal number.

Approximately 850 of the small "pup" tents were set up in the woods to accommodate the men. Officers slept in larger tents in the same area with all of the tents protected by mosquito netting. Some of the soldiers found it more comfortable to sleep in the Army trucks.

350 Vehicles Here
Approximately 350 motor vehicles brought the unit here and have been lined up along Confederate avenue for inspection. They range in size all the way from the huge "prime movers" to the quarter-ton reconnaissance cars which have room for four men and a machine gun and are generally referred to as "doodle bugs."

The whole Gettysburg maneuver is based on a general situation in which the northeastern part of the United States, held by the Blue forces, was invaded early in April by a coalition of foreign powers. The advance of the enemy was definitely stopped in June. For the purposes of the problem Gettysburg is regarded as an important railway center in the communications zone of the United States. Communications zone troops and establishments are being protected against airplane attacks by pursuit aviation from the GHQ Air Force and anti-aircraft units from the General Headquarters Reserve. Supply depots have been established here and extra railroad trackage has been placed and furnish special objects for defense by the 71st.

Frequent Plane Attacks
The probable situation states that since June 22 frequent attacks by hostile heavy and light bombardment aviation have been made in Gettysburg and the supply depots in this vicinity. Up to the time of the arrival of the 71st no anti-aircraft artillery has been in this area.

Enemy air attacks are being carried out by heavy bombardment planes traveling at about 250 miles an hour and light bombardment aviation that supports the heavier planes by attacking the anti-aircraft gun installations and by using 100-pound bombs to destroy supplies and set fires.

The solution of that situation furnished the problem for Saturday's maneuvers. Guns and lights were placed and camouflaged and contact was made with an imaginary ammunition supply depot in Gettysburg. Both the 3-inch and 37 mm. anti-aircraft guns were placed as well as 30-cal. and 50-cal. machine guns which are to be used on low-flying planes.

The 37 mm. guns which were placed within the outer circle covered by the larger weapons fire 120 rounds per minute and have an effective range of 3,000 yards and can fire effectively at elevations up to 85 degrees. The gun itself weighs 5,000 pounds. It fires a projectile weighing 1.3 pounds and requires about two minutes to be placed in action. The effective range of the three-inch guns is 10,000 yards.

Saturday night the guns were set up along the Lincoln Highway about a mile east and west of town and south of here near the National Cemetery. New positions will be taken in tonight's maneuvers.

Before the 71st leaves Gettysburg, it will mark the first anniversary of its activation on July 1 of last year and will take up positions on the Gettysburg Battlefield that its predecessor, the 71st Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, held when that unit helped stop Pickett's Charge here on July 3, 1863.

To Re-Enact Movements
Pickets charge will not be reproduced but the 71st troops of today will re-enact the moves of their unit here 78 years ago.

That activity will be a part of the observance of the first anniversary of the activation. There will be a ceremony at the camp also when the Hinman Mug will be filled with rum and the 74th regimental officers will have an opportunity to drink from it and have their say—whether it is critical or not—about the regiment. The cup is named for a former colonel of the regiment, Colonel Dale V. Hinman, now a United States Army observer in England.

Regimental officers have been invited to attend the reception at the Hotel Gettysburg on Tuesday evening in connection with the Longstreet celebration and will take part Wednesday in the memorial site dedication. Guards of honor will be provided by the troops for General Howell, the commander-in-chief of the Confederate Veterans, and for Mary Pickford, star of screen, radio and stage, who will have an important part in the dedication ceremony.

To Use Blackout Lights
After the participation in the Longstreet celebration Wednesday afternoon the 71st will leave Gettysburg for Bowling Green. Approximately half of that trip will be made after darkness and the 350 motorized vehicles will make a trial run using only the tiny, dim silhouetted "blackout" lights mounted beside and below the regulation headlights on all of the vehicles. They will travel at not more than 15 miles an hour under these conditions, while regular speed is about 30 miles an hour.

As on the trip to Gettysburg, special defense precautions will be taken by placing anti-aircraft batteries at all bridges while the regiment passes over those vulnerable spots. Mountain passes are guarded under the muzzles of machine guns against a surprise enemy attack.

While the regiment is here daily radio communication is maintained between Gettysburg and the home station, Fort Story. There is a regular telephone switchboard in camp and telephone communications are maintained during day and night maneuvers between light and gun positions and headquarters.

"Walkie-talkie" portable radios are being considered for use by the OP's (outposts) but are not in general use here now.

Another experimental test is being made—in the Gettysburg camp with the use of more than a score of hammocks, similar to those used by the Navy. They would replace tents and would save time on forced marches. They can be swung between trees or in open country can be attached to the big Army trucks. Each hammock is covered with mosquito netting.

No heavy training schedule is being pressed today and Tuesday while approximately half of the men are on leave. Those in camp may take advantage of arrangements made for swimming in the Brickyard quarry in the afternoons. Guards are on duty around the quarry during swimming hours.

Sunday was pay day at the camp and checks totaling $53,000 were distributed Sunday morning. The Gettysburg National Bank was opened for the convenience of the soldiers by Cashier I. C. Bucher and many of the checks were cashed at once. Boys going on leave were able to have their pay for use over the week-end by that means.

The 71st will reach its home station again on Thursday.

Colonel Timberlake today issued another invitation to the general public to visit his camp and attend any of the exercises arranged by his unit during its stay in Gettysburg. Every evening at 5:30 o'clock there is a retreat.

This evening about 8:30 o'clock there will be another demonstration of aerial defense of the city by his anti-aircraft unit with the powerful eight hundred million candle-power searchlight batteries in action similar to the demonstration staged Saturday evening.

On Tuesday evening the demonstration will start about 9:30 o'clock. At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, immediately after the dedicatory exercises on the battlefield, Colonel Timberlake will move his regiment to Frederick where it will set up a defense of the city against aerial and tank attack.

Mrs. James Longstreet will review the regiment Tuesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock.

Third Suspect In Bank Robbery Caught

Smethport, Pa., June 30 (AP)—District Attorney C. W. Shattuck reported today the capture of a third suspect in the $5,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Eldred on May 14.

Shattuck identified the man as Frank Spinley, 25, of Buffalo, one of two men seized by state motor police. Kane borough police and County Detective Merle Dickinson late Saturday night in the woods near Kane during a heavy rain-storm.

GLAD TO GET BACK

Bethlehem, Pa., June 30 (AP)—"Boy, oh boy, am I glad to see you and is it good to get back home," declared Peter Buss upon greeting his sister, Mrs. Margaret Danner. He was a seaman on the Robin Moor when it was torpedoed and sunk off the Cape Verde Islands May 21.

Nazis Claim Two Russian Armies Surrounded

The German high command claimed that two Russian armies were surrounded east of the Polish city of Bialystok and that a Nazi drive had swept through Lithuania well into neighboring Latvia. Reuter British news agency, quoted the official German news agency as saying Nazi motorized divisions had passed the Russian city of Minsk and had reached the road to Moscow—almost 450 miles distant by air. Moscow reported repulsing advance German tank units in the Minsk and Luck areas, and said fierce fighting was taking place in the zone of Minsk and Baranowicz.

Ministerial Association Re-Elects Its Officers

At the annual picnic for members of the Adams County Ministerial Association and their families held Saturday at the home of the Rev. A. W. Geigley, Fairfield, officers for the association were re-elected for the coming year.

These officers were named: President, the Rev. Lester M. Utz, York Springs; vice president, the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Fairfield, and secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Philip Scraft, McSherrystown.

The Rev. Dr. Dobbs F. Ehlman, New Oxford, was welcomed to the association as a new member.

It was decided to change the system for future meetings. The meetings will be held bi-monthly throughout the year, one meeting each being held in Littlestown, New Oxford, York Springs, Gettysburg, Biglerville and Fairfield. The executive committee will arrange the schedule.

Mine Accident Burns Fifteen At McIntyre

Indiana, Pa., June 30 (AP)—A report that several men had been injured in an accident at the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company mine at McIntyre, Indiana County, was received here today.

R. E. Penseld, chief clerk of the production department, reported that 15 of the 35 men believed to be working in the mine at the time of the blast had been brought to the surface and expressed belief the others would be reached quickly.

NAMED CONSTABLE

In a session of Adams County Court held this morning in judicial chambers, H. J. Motter, Littlestown, was appointed constable of the First Ward of that borough to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. E. Stites. Other matters of current business came before the court and were acted upon.

TWO ARRESTED HERE

Jennings Olinger and Edward Burlingame, Gettysburg, were arrested Sunday afternoon by Borough Officer Lloyd E. Wisler on disorderly conduct charges. They have been ordered to appear Saturday before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

GLIDER PILOTS AT ELMIRA ARE READY TO FLY

One Goes 4,000 Feet Up And Lands 39 Miles Away

Elmira, N. Y., June 30 — With the 1939 champion in the lead, the 12th Annual National Soaring Contest continues today with about 60 pilots anxious to take to the air.

Despite weak rising currents and rough air yesterday, Chester J. Decker, Glen Rock, N. J., national soaring king two years ago, flew 39 miles to Warren Center, Pa., and gained a 4,000-foot altitude.

Last year's champion, John Robinson, San Diego, Calif., staged a "nose and nose" race with Decker during the first half of their flight. Finally Decker drew ahead as Robinson landed after flying 32 miles to Windham Center, Pa., reaching a 3,000-foot height.

Rivals for three years, the pair completed their hops in two hours and 20 minutes.

Chambersburg street to the square; thence on Baltimore street to Steinwehr avenue; on Steinwehr avenue to the Taneytown road thence on Taneytown road to the gates of the battlefield, passing the reviewing stand on the colonnade of the National Museum where the distinguished guests will be assembled.

When the procession passes the reviewing stand the guests will be escorted on a short-cut route to the dedicatory rostrum at the Longstreet memorial site to arrive there before the procession reaches that point.

The men in the parade will board army trucks and other motor vehicles and ride the balance of the parade route through the battlefield, over Big Round Top to the Longstreet site.

Parking Restrictions

Burgess Heiges announced that parking will be prohibited along the line of march on Chambersburg and Baltimore streets and on Steinwehr avenue from 11 o'clock Wednesday morning until the conclusion of the parade. No parking will be permitted on either side of the street during that interval.

Pennsylvania motor police will assist local police in enforcing this edict.

LeRoy Winebrenner will be the grand marshal with Major Generals Evans and Hudgins as aides.

Those at the conference included: Superintendent Coleman, Colonel Timberlake and Lt. L. B. DeVille, Joseph Rosenstiel, Roy Alexander of the American Legion, C. L. Nett, United Spanish War Veterans; Sergeant J. C. Grey and Corporal F. C. Russell, of the Pennsylvania motor police; William Allison, S. G. Soltenberger and Horace Smiley, of the Park Service, and LeRoy Winebrenner.

Special Parking Area

Spectators who plan to attend the exercises at the dedication of the site for the Longstreet memorial Wednesday afternoon on the battlefield will have a special parking area reserved for them.

Motorists and pedestrians are directed to go to the site by way of the Emmitsburg road or Confederate avenue and to drive to the entrance station on the Emmitsburg road. The parking area reserved for their machines is in the rear of the entrance station. They may then walk a few hundred feet to the dedicatory site.

No automobiles, other than those in the parade, will be permitted to park on the battlefield proper at the site.

Burgess Issues Proclamation

Burgess C. A. Heiges issued the following proclamation this morning:

"I, C. A. Heiges, burgess of Gettysburg, do hereby proclaim July 1 and 2 as Longstreet Days in Gettysburg and heartily welcome all those who visit our city during the dedication of the site for the erection of the statue of Gen. James Longstreet.

"I hereby call upon the business places and citizens of our city to display the American flag during these two days."

Local Driver Fences

Reckless Charge

Levi P. Plank, Gettysburg, has been charged before Justice of the Peace Gerald Orndorf, Oxford Township, with reckless driving through a section marked by caution signs in which state motor police from Gettysburg were checking traffic on the Carlisle road north of Hanover on Friday evening.

William C. Martin, Springfield, Ohio, has been charged with speeding at 66 miles an hour before Justice of the Peace William D. Brown, Straban Township. State motor police from Gettysburg made both arrests.

94 DEGREES TODAY

Before 2 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had climbed a fraction above the 94-degree mark in official instruments of Dr. Henry Stewart, local weather observer, making this one of the hottest days of the summer. Readings above 90 were taken here daily over the week-end.

within a hundred miles of Gettysburg their first opportunity to visit the trainees since they joined up, and to participate in the ceremonies surrounding the dedication of the General Longstreet memorial site here on Wednesday afternoon.

The regimental commander in camp here with his men is Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Timberlake, a ninth generation officer in the American Army, one of whose ancestors was an aid to General Washington.

Joyous family reunions were the order of the day at the 71st camp on Sunday. All of the soldiers who were visited by friends here were granted 48-hour leaves of absence after the noon meal Sunday and many took advantage of that opportunity to make a trip home. They are required to be back in camp here before retreat Tuesday. Leaves were granted up to half the strength of the regiment.

Eat Ton and Half of Chicken

The soldiers' visitors were guests of the Army at dinner at camp on Sunday and the soldiers and their friends consumed a ton and a half of fried chicken. The menu included creamed corn, candied sweet potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad, cookies, bread and butter, jellies and pickles, coffee, milk and ice cream. The meal was prepared in the "rolling kitchens" attached to the regiment in which meals are prepared for the troops on the road or on camp and are ready to serve on the hour. Special gas stoves mounted on large kitchen trucks furnish the heat.

Before the unit came here hundreds of invitations were mailed to relatives within a 100-mile radius of Gettysburg to come here Sunday to see their boys and more than 800 letters of acceptance were received. Hundreds of visitors slept in cars at the camp grounds or along the battlefield avenues near camp.

The camp section was turned over to visitors for inspection on Sunday. Motorized and ordnance equipment was labelled and descriptive posters gave information to the visitors on the uses and capacities of the weapons and other equipment.

Searchlight Display Attractive

While about 75 per cent of the men in camp are enlisted men or draftees from Pennsylvania, most of the others are from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. The camp area was a mecca for sightseers and visitors for the entire week-end.

Saturday night's display by the huge searchlights placed around the town in the anti-aircraft defense attracted many to the area as the long pencils of white light laced the sky and were visible for 15 miles or more from Gettysburg.

The big searchlights are 60 inches in diameter and have an effective range of 15,000 yards or about eight miles. They operate on 100-volt current and use 150 amperes. Saturday night they spotted and followed an airplane from the 103rd Observation Squadron which came here for the purposes of the maneuvers while gun crews manning 3-inch anti aircraft and 37 mm guns "fired" on the plane with dummy ammunition, going through all of the operations that would be used in actual combat.

All of the gun and light positions were photographed from the air Saturday afternoon to see if camouflage work was effective from the air.

Resume Maneuvers Today

The maneuvers ended by 10 o'clock Saturday evening to be resumed this afternoon and evening as tactical problems being solved here are continued.

Sunday morning's schedule at the camp included religious services which were conducted by Catholic and Protestant Army chaplains accompanying the troops. The Catholic services were held first and attracted about 200 men. The Protestant services followed and were attended by about an equal number.

Approximately 850 of the small "pup" tents were set up in the woods to accommodate the men. Officers slept in larger tents in the same area with all of the tents protected by mosquito netting. Some of the soldiers found it more comfortable to sleep in the Army trucks.

350 Vehicles Here

Approximately 350 motor vehicles brought the unit here and have been lined up along Confederate avenue for inspection. They range in size all the way from the huge "prime movers" to the quarter-ton reconnaissance cars which have room for four men and a machine gun and are generally referred to as "doodle bugs."

The whole Gettysburg maneuver is based on a general situation in which the northeastern part of the United States, held by the Blue forces, was invaded early in April by a coalition of foreign powers. The advance of the enemy was definitely stopped in June. For the purposes of the problem Gettysburg is regarded as an important railway center in the communications zone of the United States. Frequent Plane Attacks

The probable situation states that since June 22 frequent attacks by hostile heavy and light bombardment aviation have been made in this vicinity. Up to the time of the arrival of the 71st anti-aircraft artillery has been in this area.

Enemy air attacks are being carried out by heavy bombardment planes traveling at about 250 miles an hour and light bombardment aviation that supports the heavier planes by attacking the anti-aircraft gun installations and by using 100-pound bombs to destroy supplies and set fires.

The solution of that situation furnished the problem for Saturday's maneuvers. Guns and lights were placed and camouflaged and contact was made with an imaginary ammunition supply depot in Gettysburg. Both the 3-inch and 37 mm. anti-aircraft guns were placed as well as 30-cal. and 50-cal. machine guns which are to be used on low-flying planes.

The 37 mm. guns which were placed within the outer circle covered by the larger weapons fire 120 rounds per minute and have an effective range of 3,000 yards and can fire effectively at elevations up to 85 degrees. The gun itself weighs 5,000 pounds. It fires a projectile weighing 1.3 pounds and requires about two minutes to be placed in action. The effective range of the three-inch guns is 10,000 yards.

Saturday night the guns were set up along the Lincoln Highway about a mile east and west of town and south of here near the National Cemetery. New positions will be taken in tonight's maneuvers.

Before the 71st leaves Gettysburg, it will mark the first anniversary of its activation on July 1 of last year and will take up positions on the Gettysburg Battlefield that its predecessor, the 71st Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, held when that unit helped stop Pickett's Charge here on July 3, 1863.

The cup is named for a former colonel of the regiment, Colonel Dale V. Hinman, now a United States Army observer in England.

Regimental officers have been invited to attend the reception at the Hotel Gettysburg on Tuesday evening in connection with the Longstreet celebration and will take part Wednesday in the memorial site dedication. After the participation in the Longstreet celebration Wednesday afternoon the 71st will leave Gettysburg for Bowling Green. Approximately half of that trip will be made after darkness and the 350 motorized vehicles will make a trial run using only the tiny, dim slanted "blackout" lights mounted beside and below the regulation headlights on all of the vehicles. They will travel at not more than 15 miles an hour under these conditions, while regular speed is about 30 miles an hour.

As on the trip to Gettysburg, special defense precautions will be

Third Suspect In Bank Robbery Caught

Smethport, Pa., June 30 (AP)—District Attorney C. W. Shattuck reported today the capture of a third suspect in the $5,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Eldred on May 14.

Shattuck identified the man as Frank Spinley, 25, of Buffalo, one of two men seized by state motor police, Kane borough police and County Detective Merle Dickinson late Saturday night in the woods near Kane during a heavy rainstorm.

GLAD TO GET BACK

Bethlehem, Pa., June 30 (AP)—"Boy, oh boy, am I glad to see you and is it good to get back home," declared Peter Buss upon greeting his sister, Mrs. Margaret Danner. He was a seaman on the Robin Moor when it was torpedoed and sunk off the Cape Verde Islands May 21.

Nazis Claim Two Russian Armies Surrounded

The German high Command claimed that two Russian armies were surrounded east of the Polish city of Bialystok and that a Nazi drive had swept through Lithuania well into neighboring Latvia. Reuters British news agency, quoted the official German news agency as saying Nazi motorized divisions had passed the Russian city of Minsk and had reached the road to Moscow—almost 450 miles distant by air. Moscow reported repulsing advance German tank units in the Minsk and Luck areas and said fierce fighting was taking place in the zones of Minsk and Baranowicz.

Ministerial Association Re-Elects Its Officers

At the annual picnic for members of the Adams County Ministerial Association and their families held Saturday at the home of the Rev. A. W. Geigley, Fairfield, officers for the association were re-elected for the coming year.

These officers were named: President, the Rev. Lester M. Utz, York Springs; vice president, the Rev. Nevin Frantz, Fairfield, and secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Philip Scraft, McSherrystown.

The Rev. Dr. Dobbs F. Ehlman, New Oxford, was welcomed to the association as a new member.

It was decided to change the system for future meetings. The meetings will be held bi-monthly throughout the year, one meeting each being held in Littlestown, New Oxford, York Springs, Gettysburg, Biglerville and Fairfield. The executive committee will arrange the schedule.

Mine Accident Burns Fifteen At McIntyre

Indiana, Pa., June 30 (AP)—A report that several men had been injured in an accident at the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Company mine at McIntyre, Indiana County, was received here today.

R. E. Penseld, chief clerk of the production department, reported that 15 of the 35 men believed to be working in the mine at the time of the blast had been brought to the surface and expressed belief the others would be reached quickly.

NAMED CONSTABLE

In a session of Adams County Court held this morning in judicial chambers, H. J. Motter, Littlestown, was appointed constable of the First Ward of that borough to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. E. Stites. Other matters of current business came before the court and were acted upon.

GLIDER PILOTS AT ELMIRA ARE READY TO FLY

One Goes 4,000 Feet Up And Lands 39 Miles Away

Elmira, N. Y., June 30 — With the 1939 champion in the lead, the 12th Annual National Soaring Contest continues today with about 60 pilots anxious to take to the air.

Despite weak rising currents and rough air yesterday, Chester J. Decker, Glen Rock, N. J., national soaring king two years ago, flew 39 miles to Warren Center, Pa., and gained a 4,000-foot altitude.

Decker edged Richard Johnson, 18, Los Altos, Calif., youngest flier in the meet, who also flew 39 miles to Appalachin but soared only 2,600 feet above the point of release.

Last year's champion, John Robinson, San Diego, Calif., staged a "nose and nose" race with Decker during the first half of their flight. Finally Decker drew ahead as Robinson landed after flying 32 miles to Windham Center, Pa., reaching a 3,000-foot height.

Rivals for three years, the pair completed their hops in two hours and 20 minutes.

TWO ARRESTED HERE

Jennings Olinger and Edward Burlingame, Gettysburg, were arrested Sunday afternoon by Borough Officer Lloyd E. Wisler on disorderly conduct charges. They have been ordered to appear Saturday before Justice of the Peace John H. Basore.

New York, June 30—The German switch that made a foe out of friend Russia also has given the nazis a new rival in the ether. And a bitter one at that. After recovery from the apparent suddenness of the attack, the Moscow radio hasn't been pulling any punches in what it has to say about the Germans. In fact, short-wave listeners on this side report that, if anything, the Russians are even more vituperative than their new enemy.

The Rhineland
Writer Hopes Its Folk May Be Thinking As Follows:
(By An Associated Press Staff Writer)
Taking it for granted that wishful thinking about German morale is dangerous, perhaps it is not untimely to wonder: What would you be thinking about, if you lived on the river Rhine, at Cologne?
In the first place, your pleasant city, at the base of the busy Ruhr, has been bombed just 73 times, although you can well remember that Herman Goering said two years ago: "We will not expose the Ruhr to a single bomb dropped by enemy aircraft."
For seventeen nights now your air raid sirens have screamed and you had to go to the cellar, although you got no bombs last night, for a change, because the British were a bit farther north, blasting at the Bremen area. You may be sure, however, that they will be back over Cologne very soon, "making the German people taste and gulp each month a sharper dose of the miseries they have showered upon mankind."
You heard Winston Churchill say that if you listened, secretly, to the British wireless last Sunday, and you did not like it.
You did not want this war; better than other Germans you remem-

which you had to fight on such a long front last time, was on your side; you were told again and again that the Fuehrer would never fight on two fronts. And there you were, safe, right behind the Siegfried line! But the bombs came — the first, May 20, 1940, while you were so happy about the great victory in the west. That night they hit the railway yards; they have hit them many times since; also the chemical plant, the oil refinery, the mysterious munitions factory; even, this spring, the approaches to the Hohenzollern bridge.
But you could take it; the Fuehrer promised victory and peace in 1941.
Now, you suddenly are at war with Russia. You cannot figure that out. You know it very well to be true, however. The Rhineland may be a long way from Russia, but you are feeling this phase of the war much more than the Germans who live closer to the eastern border. This week, you have had three times the bombs in every raid that you got a month ago, and the British planes sound hundreds strong. You do not see so many of your own planes about, either.
Your Hans and Rudi have gone away with the army. You have not heard from them for a long time; no news, they say, is good news, but you are afraid they may be fighting in Poland.

Trucker Jailed In Default Of $50 Fine
Hugh Higgins, Shamokin, was sent to the Adams county jail this morning in default of payment of a $50 fine imposed by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore for violations charged by John E. Millhimes, county sealer of weights and measures.
Higgins pleaded guilty to selling coal by compartments instead of by weight and without weight slips. If Higgins does not secure the money for the fine and costs he will have to serve 30 days in the county jail.

Trucker Jailed In Default Of $50 Fine

Hugh Higgins, Shamokin, was sent to the Adams county jail this morning in default of payment of a $50 fine imposed by Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore for violations charged by John E. Millhimes, county sealer of weights and measures.

Higgins pleaded guilty to selling coal by compartments instead of by weight and without weight slips. If Higgins does not secure the money for the fine and costs he will have to serve 30 days in the county jail.

(By An Associated Press Staff Writer)

Taking it for granted that wishful thinking about German morale is dangerous, perhaps it is not untimely to wonder: What would you be thinking about, if you lived on the river Rhine at Cologne?

In the first place, your pleasant city, at the base of the busy Ruhr, has been bombed just 73 times, although you can well remember that Herman Goering said two years ago: "We will not expose the Ruhr to a single bomb dropped by enemy aircraft."

For seventeen nights now your air raid sirens have screamed and you had to go to the cellar, although you got no bombs last night, for a change, because the British were a bit farther north, blasting at the Bremen area. You may be sure, however, that they will be back over Cologne very soon, "making the German people taste and gulp each month a sharper dose of the miseries they have showered upon mankind."

You heard Winston Churchill say that if you listened, secretly, to the British wireless last Sunday, and you did not like it.

You did not want this war; better than other Germans you remem-

It's Chesterfield

Smokers everywhere like their COOLER, Milder, BETTER TASTE

Chesterfield's mounting popularity is due to the Right Combination of the world's leading tobaccos... the best known cigarette tobaccos from Tobaccoland, U. S. A., blended with aromatic Turkish.

Every type of tobacco used in Chesterfield is good-tasting; but the combination gives you a Better Taste... a cigarette that's Cooler-Smoking and Definitely Milder.

which you had to fight on such a long front last time, was on your side; you were told again and again that the Fuehrer would never fight on two fronts. And there you were, safe, right behind the Siegfried line!

But the bombs came — the first, May 20, 1940, while you were so happy about the great victory in the west. That night they hit the railway yards; they have hit them many times since; also the chemical plant, the oil refinery, the mysterious munitions factory; even, this spring, the approaches to the Hohenzollern bridge.

But you could take it; the Fuehrer promised victory and peace in 1941.

Now, you suddenly are at war with Russia. You cannot figure that out. You know it very well to be true, however. The Rhineland may be a long way from Russia, but you are feeling this phase of the war much more than the Germans who live closer to the eastern border. This week, you have had three times the bombs in every raid that you got a month ago, and the British planes sound hundreds strong. You do not see so many of your own planes about, either.

Your Hans and Rudi have gone away with the army. You have not heard from them for a long time; no news, they say, is good news, but you are afraid they may be fighting in Poland.
